RBI SLOWLY WITHDRAWING ₹2,000 NOTES FROM SYSTEM

Since 2018, ₹1.82 lakh crore worth notes have been pulled out of circulation. RBI had frozen printing of pink notes 2 yrs ago

REDUCING DEPENDENCY ON HIGH-VALUE NOTES

The move indicates RBI's intent to reduce dependency on high-value bank notes. From 33,632 lakh notes in circulation in 2018, the number fell to 27,398 lakh notes in 2021, a decrease of 6,234 lakh notes. In value terms, ₹2,000 face value notes worth ₹6,72,642 crore were in circulation in 2018, which came down to ₹4,90,195 crore in 2021, a decline of ₹1,82,447 crore | P12

RAMPING UP PRINTING OF ₹500 NOTES

- A former RBI official said the withdrawn notes could have been soiled ones, which were not indented (reprinted) by the bank
- RBI is ramping up printing of ₹500 notes to match the demand for cash. It now accounts for 68.4% of total notes in circulation
- Another reason for the withdrawal could be to dissuade hoarders

Govt, Twitter turf fight gets nasty

Both claim their goal is to protect user's privacy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi/Bengaluru

GLOVES were off on Thursday as the spat between Twitter and the Union Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (MeitY) turned ugly, with the former calling out the Centre's new regulatory regime and the latter saying the platform has no locus in dictating India's legal policy framework. Both claimed their goal was to protect the user's privacy and the freedom of speech and expression.

With Twitter claiming it was being intimidated by the Delhi Police for flagging BJP leader Sambit Patra's tweet on an alleged Congress toolkit as 'manipulated media', the latter piled on it, calling the statement mendacious, "designed to seek dubious sympathy and impede a lawful enquiry".

"Twitter Inc. has taken upon itself, in the garb of terms of service, to adjudicate the truth or otherwise of documents in public space. Twitter is purporting to be both an investigating authority as well as an adjudicating judicial authority. It has no legal sanction to be either. The only legal entity.. to investigate is the police and to adjudicate is the courts," said Delhi Police spokesperson Chenmoy Biswal.

The ministry said the company is refusing to comply with those very regulations in the intermediary guidelines on the basis of which it is claiming a safe harbour from any criminal liability in India. The Centre said that Twitter's statement is an attempt to dictate its terms to the world's largest democracy.

The ministry charged Twitter with being complacent in taking action against those who incited violence during the Red Fort violence, promoting vaccine hesitancy through its platform as well as showing Ladakh a part of China during the border disputes between two countries. It asked Twitter to stop beating around the bush and comply with the laws of land. "Twitter is just a social media platform and it has no locus in dictating what India's legal policy framework should be," the ministry said.

Earlier, Twitter said it is planning to advocate changes in the core elements of the recently-framed social intermediary guidelines. "To keep our service available, we will strive to comply with applicable law in India. But, just as we do around the world, we will continue to be strictly guided by principles of transparency...," the company said in a statement.

Cabinet retracts nod for Jindal land deal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE B S Yediyurappa Cabinet on Thursday decided to withdraw its approval for a lease-cum-sale of land deal with JSW Steel Ltd. The decision to "refuse confirmation", after giving the nod in the previous meeting to sell 3,667 acres in Ballari, was taken amid stiff opposition from within the BJP itself. The cabinet's U-turn on the matter is being seen as Yediyurappa taking one step back to ease the ongoing power tussle in the BJP.

Party MLAs, including Minister for Haj and Wakf, Anand Singh, had openly expressed disappointment over the land deal being approved, especially when BJP MLAs had vehemently opposed it during the Congress-JDS coalition government.

"The previous cabinet meeting's decision on land sale to Jindal has not been confirmed in today's cabinet meeting. Since it has not been confirmed in this cabinet meeting, the decision will not be implemented," Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister Basavaraj Bommai told reporters after the cabinet meeting.

When asked if the decision came about after the BJP central leadership's intervention following opposition from within the party ranks, the minister pointed to a technicality and denied that there was any pressure leading to change in decision.

Pandemic clouding near-term economic outlook, says RBI

SESA SEN @ New Delhi

WITH the second wave of the coronavirus pandemic continuing to wreak havoc on India's healthcare infrastructure as well as the country's economy, it could take several months before glimpses of an economic rebound could be seen. "The near-term outlook is clouded, with an accentuation of downside risks and potential externalities of global spillovers," the Reserve Bank of India said in its annual report for 2020-21, released on Thursday. Even as daily new infections have started dropping, it still "remains high for comfort" and the macro-economic costs of this wave are likely to spill over into July, the central bank noted.

The slow pace of inoculation and bleak global economic outlook also add to uncertainty.

Already, most economists have trimmed India's real GDP forecast to settle at 7-8% in FY22. RBI, which had projected 10.5% for the current financial year may also follow suit as its projection was based on the assessment done in March. For now, however, RBI has retained its projection. "This is the most optimistic scenario that can be envisaged at this juncture – it provides a limited window to establish strict pandemic protocols and logistics, ramp up vaccines production and medical supplies, fill gaps in the health infrastructure and build up stocks... In all other outcomes, losses in terms of lives, jobs and output are likely to be adverse and long lasting" the RBI noted.

WHILE Bengaluru has been Karnataka's Covid-19 hotspot, a worrisome trend is now surfacing. The seven-day positivity rate in at least 16 of the 31 districts is higher than that of the state's average of 19.28 per cent.

This data from the state Covid-19 war room indicates that more people are proportionately testing positive in those districts even as the positivity rate of Bengaluru Urban district has been found to be among the lowest.

The top five districts with the highest positivity rate, calculated between May 19 and 25, are Mysuru (41.32 per cent), Uttara Kannada (32.98 per cent), Hassan (29.93 per cent), Tumakuru (29.33 per cent) and Koppal (29.21 per cent).

As per the data, Bengaluru Urban's positivity rate in the same period is among the lowest at 13.58 per cent. Only four other districts have lower rates than Bengaluru's — Haveri (13.48 per cent), Bagalkot (11.67 per cent), Kalaburagi (10.20 per cent) and Bidar (2.58 per cent).

Shivamogga and Vijayapura have the same test positivity rate as the state's average in this period. Only, 12 districts have a positivity rate lower than the state's average.

Uttara Kannada District Health Officer Dr Sharath Nayak said that last week, the district clocked 900 to 1,000 cases per day.

Bridging trials waived for vax manufacturers

THE Centre has now decided to exempt foreign Covid-19 vaccine makers from bridging trials in India completely, after announcing last month that the first 100 beneficiaries of foreign vaccines will be assessed for seven days for safety outcomes before the vaccine is incorporated in the immunisation drive.

The development comes in the backdrop of the negotiations between the Centre and Pfizer on importing its vaccine, which is likely to begin in July. V K Paul, member (health) Niti Aayog, said on Thursday that Pfizer has indicated the availability of its vaccine while other terms of the agreement are under discussion.

Niti Aayog also released a document to defend Centre's procurement policy, saying it 'proactively' eased entry of vaccines approved by US FDA, EMA, UK's MHRA and and WHO's emergency use listing into India in April.

CM inaugurates vaccination camp for Metro workers, street vendors and slum dwellers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister B S Yediyurappa on Thursday inaugurated a vaccination drive for Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Ltd (BMRCL) staff, street vendors and slum-dwellers. At least 3,128 BMRCL construction workers got inoculated on the first day of the two-day drive, which was launched from the National College Metro Station and was held at four different metro stations.

The CM said that the first round of vaccination is being undertaken over a period of two days and 7,500 Metro construction workers will benefit from It. The other stations where the drive is being carried out are MG Road, Baiyappanahalli and Vijayanagar. "A total of 900 workers will be vaccinated at each station daily with six vaccination centres in each station," he said.

He lauded corporate houses for coming forward to offer assistance for the vaccination programme through their Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) activities. Satva Consulting, ACT Grants and United Way donated vaccines to be administered to frontline workers in Bengaluru. An official release said that St John's Medical College was assisting them in the drive.

On the sidelines of the inauguration of the vaccination drive for slum dwellers and street vendors, Yediyurappa said that so far, Bengaluru-based companies have contributed a total of Rs 175 crore under CSR initiatives. The money is being used for vaccination for the needy and economically weaker sections of society, whose health is important to be addressed in controlling the pandemic, the CM said.

He said 53,000 street vendors have been identified and they, along with slum dwellers, will be vaccinated on priority. The government had decided to give Rs 2,000 to each street vendor and those who have ID cards are also being given letters of recommendation to easily avail loans up to Rs 10,000.

#CancelAllExams trends, as Indian, Pak students unite online

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH voices growing louder against examinations amid the pandemic, this time, not only students from India, but also from neighbouring Pakistan, have united, asking education ministers to not hold examinations this year, and #CancelAllExams trending on Twitter on Thursday.

The CBSE on Monday announced that Class 12 exams will be held in the months of July and August. The Karnataka government has opted to hold exams, saying they will conduct them in July. This is following a meeting with Union ministers of defence and education, among others, on May 23.

The union is reported to have asked the state governments for their opinions on how to hold Class 12 exams for CBSE Board students, and a decision is expected soon. Meanwhile, the Council for Indian School Certificate Examinations (CISCE) board that holds ICSE and ISC examinations, held its decision about the Class 12 board examination for June 1.

"Students across India and Pakistan united to #CancelAllExams. In both nations, we have seen a toxic competitive culture that has put exams above health & life for decades. It's time Ramesh Pokhriyal, Union Cabinet Minister for Education and Federal Minister Education, professional training, National Heritage and culture, Shafqat Mahmood, place students' interests ahead of their dear crony educationalists," said Dhruv Jatti, president and founder of Bangalore Student Community.

WORK HIT, KG LAYOUT MAY NOT BE READY BY YEAR-END

BDA looks all set to miss the deadline once again as major work on land acquisition, water supply, sewage treatment plant and electricity is still pending due to lack of planning. They have to shell out additional revenue

A S Surya Kiran, NPKL Open Forum, member

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

IT is highly unlikely that the Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) will be able to meet the December 2021 deadline for the completion of the Nadaprabhu Kempegowda Layout (NPKL). Reduced workforce due to the Covid surge and the acute shortage of raw materials earlier has impacted the pace of work in this layout.

The layout, located between Mysuru Road and Magadi Road, was proposed in 2010. Allotment of sites began in 2015 and a total of 10,000 allottees have been given sites here in two phases. It was to be fully ready by March 31, 2018. After a series of delays, allottees had taken the BDA to the state's Real Estate Regulatory Authority (RERA) court, which had fixed a deadline of December 31, 2021.

A senior BDA official told TNIE that though the issue has been resolved now, the non-availability of raw material has severely impacted work in the last two months. "The gelatin blasts in Chikkaballapur district and in Hunasodu, both of which resulted in deaths, brought in stringent rules for operating quarries. The shutdown of quarries caused a huge shortage of raw material for us in March and April. We have only recently started receiving raw materials," he said. The layout needs to have at least 6,000 manholes to be ready for the sewerage network being proposed. "All of them need jelly and other material for pre-cast work. We need to keep the cast ready before laying roads. Hence, the shortage of material had slowed down the infrastructure projects planned," he said.

The BDA was doing its best to ensure the deadline could be met. "A good chunk of labourers too have left for their hometowns and there is a shortage of skilled labour right now," he explained.

Up compensation cess on tobacco products: Experts to GST Council

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

PUBLIC health groups, along with doctors, have urged the GST Council to increase compensation cess on all tobacco products to generate additional revenue, in view of the council's meet on Friday, suggesting that the revenue can be used for Covid-related programmes like vaccination.

Experts have said there has not been any major increase in tobacco taxes since the introduction of GST in July 2017, and all tobacco products have become more affordable over the past three years. And, according to the World Health Organisation (WHO), raising the price of tobacco products through tax increases is the most effective policy to reduce tobacco use.

"There is growing evidence that tobacco increases the risk for severe Covid-19 infection. Smoking worsens lung function and reduces immunity. Tobacco users who develop Covid infection have more complications and a greater risk of fatality. It is urgent to increase taxes on all tobacco products to reduce their affordability and consumption," said Dr Vishal Rao, oncologist and member of the High Power Committee on Tobacco of the State Government, reiterating that the revenue generated through higher taxes can be used for Covid treatment and vaccination.

On a roll: Lockdown, absence of public transport aid cyclists

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

WHILE most businesses have taken a beating due to the pandemic, bicycle business is booming. More people prefer commuting by bicycles in the city thanks to the partial and later stricter lockdown. Medical practitioners, public sector firm employees and delivery agents are among the new clientele who opt to pedal to work.

Public bike-sharing service, Yulu, which aims at offering micro-mobility services, has clearly seen a surge in demand for its electric bikes 'Miracle'. Yulu Zones have been set up near hospitals, medical shops and diagnostic labs.

Yulu Co-founder and COO Hemant Gupta said the first quarter of this calendar year had been very encouraging. "During this Covid period, when there is a demand for home delivery, it has offered an option for many unemployed people who cannot afford to buy a vehicle to work as delivery agents without any investment from their side."

There are around 8,000 'Miracle' vehicles in Bengaluru.

Safety is a big factor working in favour of these bikes, Gupta added. "We sanitise the vehicles regularly and when one accesses our app, it displays the time when the bike was last sanitised. We are probably the only firm in the world making this public."

28th May: I mentioned Jupiter yesterday. What I didn't say is that if this planet was much larger it would be a second Sun. The reason is that it is so huge that if it were any bigger it would collapse in on itself and ignite. I wonder what it would be like to have two Suns? The nights would be shorter, that's for sure. No more night life. Hmmm!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The Moon reaches a climax in its cycle in relation to a deeply emotional region of your chart. But what happens next is anyone's guess. That's partly because while it is easy to forecast rising tension no body can predict exactly how you will respond. All I'd say is: at all times keep at least one foot where it's supposed to be - on the ground.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You are undoubtedly ready to make your move. But I think that's because you're already sensing possib-ilities which might not arrive until tomorrow. Today favours open horizons and far-sighted approaches to narrow-minded people, but you might be best off leaving the cutting edge to those who really know what's happening.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
There is so much to learn from your current situation. Even minor, trivial day-to-day events can possess a much deeper significance; but even if you don't 'get it' straight away, you'll have another chance next month - and the month after that!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
What's bugging you? Could it be the feeling that you're not getting anywhere? Or that someone has let you down? In either case it looks as if you're about to feel a whole lot better, but only if you link up with partners and allow them to take the lead. You absolutely have to extend the hand of friendship to friends and rivals alike.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Both today's leading planetary aspects are imaginative, even a little mystical in tone. How can you benefit from this? For a start, you can listen to your dreams. And if you can't remember your dreams, listen to your day-dreams. They're not all complete nonsense, and there may be pointers to the solution of a genuine problem.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
I think you deserve a jolly good holiday. You're a workaholic by nature, so you always have work to squeeze in some spare time, but perhaps I could plead with you to go easy on yourself and have as much time off as you can. Your financial fortunes are about to change, with adjustments expected both in your income and spending.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
If I advise you to pause for thought, it's because your planets are urging you to rush ahead. You could be increasingly impatient, but your circumstances are changing - and that's why you will have to consider every step with due care and attention. And, at work, it's who you know - and how you get on with them - that counts.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There's one of those Sun-Moon alignments today which stirs up emotions and creates excitement. You'll probably have some financial loose ends to sort out, but you'll soon realise that an issue which was bugging you wasn't so important after all. Remember - your emotional stars are still beneficial, and that should reinforce your romantic confidence.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Today's situation is somewhat unusual. It's the second time this year that you've faced a challenge between the Sun and the Moon in your sign and you may have a sense of déjà vu - as if you've been here before. The only difference is that this time around you have the chance to actually do something about it!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You may be a bit unsteady on your feet, emotionally speaking, but that's quite natural. After all, the Sun and the Moon are facing each other down in somewhat sensitive regions of your chart. Perhaps it's an ideal moment to carry on with private matters, which don't involve other people, but which mean a great deal to you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You're in an excellent position socially, even though some friends may be in an unpredictable mood. Still, just because they don't always see eye-to-eye, that's no reason why you should take it on yourself to bring order to chaos. A relationship could still be hard work, but then, the more effort you put into it the better your rewards.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
There is too much happening in the upper reaches of your chart for you to be able to truly relax. But that means that you'll feel better if you keep active and energetic. You'll lose yourself in some vigorous and busy pursuit, forgetting your cares and woes; it's like a sort of sophisticated displacement activity!

CM HITS BACK, SAYS VISITORS TO DELHI HAVE GOT THEIR REPLY

Stresses that his focus is on Covid management; Yogeshwara ups ante, questions role of son

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

POLITICAL circles are abuzz with talk about a change in leadership, especially after Thursday's cabinet meeting. Dissidence cropped up, with supporters and opponents of Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa ranging themselves on opposing sides.

Cabinet minister C P Yogeshwara, just back from a trip to New Delhi, raised the issue of familial ties with a cryptic question, "Can my son interfere with, or control my ministry?" His oblique reference was to Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa's son B Y Vijayendra's alleged interference in administration. Yogeshwara had been to Delhi, apparently to complain to central leaders about the state leadership.

Yediyurappa hit back, saying, "At this time, when people are suffering and dying, Covid is the primary issue before me. Whether someone went somewhere (Delhi), is it relevant? The central leadership has given him an answer and sent him back." This is the first time CM Yediyurappa has acknowledged talk of leadership change.

Yogeshwara went on to say that the government is not a single-party "pure BJP government", but a government of three parties -- though he stopped short of specifying what he meant.

Sources say that Yogeshwara is now drawing up a letter to be given to the central leadership, allegedly listing out interference by Vijayendra in many ministries. He has also alleged that some opposition members got huge amounts of money for development, while BJP MLAs have to make do with meagre sums. His third complaint is that the advisory by Covid experts was not followed, and that the party does not call for a Legislature Party meeting. The letter asks the central leadership to send three central observers to oversee the legislature party meeting, and claims to have the support of Yediyurappa's critics MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, MLC H Vishwanath and some heavyweights in the party.

> At this time, when people are suffering and dying, Covid is the primary issue before me. Whether someone went somewhere (Delhi), is it relevant?

> Chief Minister

The CM's political secretary, MP Renukacharya, told the media in Davanagere, "We have a letter containing signatures of 65 MLAs, but this is not a time for letters, it is time to focus on Covid." He said he too would start a signature campaign, demanding that Yogeshwara be sacked, and alleged that Yogeshwara, "is a scamster" (referring to Megacity scam) and must be arrested. MLA Haratalu Halappa wanted to know with what authority Yogeshwara could speak about a change in leadership.

Others who rushed in to support Yediyurappa are Hassan MLA Preetham Gowda, DyCM C N Ashwath Narayan, MTB Nagaraj, ST Somashekar, V Somanna, besides legislators Ayanur Manjunath and Raju Gowda.

Dharwad South MLA Arvind Bellad, who accompanied Yogeshwara to Delhi, expressed satisfaction over the cabinet decision to stall the sale of 3,667 acres of land to Jindal, crediting it to their Delhi visit.

Pay reasonable relief for Ch'nagar victims: HC

The Karnataka High Court on Thursday orally observed that the state government should pay a "reasonable amount" as ad hoc compensation to the families of 24 Covid patients who died due to lack of oxygen at the Chamarajanagar district hospital in the first week of this month. Noting that the Rs 2-lakh interim relief announced by the state government for each family is low, a special division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Aravind Kumar said that they will hear on enhancement of the ad hoc compensation on June 3. The court also indicated that it will consider hearing the matter about the number of deaths on the next date of hearing. ENS

Cong demands Jarkiholi's arrest

The opposition Congress on Thursday demanded the arrest of former minister Ramesh Jarkiholi, accused of sexual abuse, besides a court-monitored probe into the case. Addressing a joint press conference with KPCC president DK Shivakumar, former Chief Minister Siddaramaiah said Jarkiholi, who is facing serious charges, must be arrested. Siddaramaiah also demanded the resignation of Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai for allegedly protecting the BJP leader. He said investigation into the case should continue under the supervision of court, and the role of ministers and officers who are allegedly protecting him, should also be probed. ENS

DyCMs brief Guv on Covid

ENS @Bengaluru

DEPUTY Chief Ministers Dr C N Ashwath Narayan and Govind Karjol on Thursday briefed Governor Vajubhai Vala on the Covid situation in the state, and measures taken by the government to contain its spread.

During the meeting, from 1.30 pm to 2.45 pm, the DyCMs explained in detail the containment measures, vaccination drive and measures to upgrade health infrastructure, including recruitment of healthcare professionals.

BJP leaders had opposed cabinet decision

"There is an appeal pending before the Supreme Court and a fresh PIL in the High court. There is a procedure called "confirmation" in cabinet meetings that allows for any decision taken in the previous cabinet meeting to be reviewed in the next meeting. This procedure has been in place since 1957. As per that procedure, many decisions taken by the cabinet may not be confirmed. When we earlier decided to go ahead with the sale of land, the High Court had overturned a lower court's order staying the deal, but now a fresh PIL has been filed," Bommai reasoned.

- New PG courses and additional seats at Hassan Institute of Medical Sciences at a cost of ₹58.22 crore from Centre
- ₹25.7 crore for connecting roads from Mysuru Road to Uttarahalli Main Road in Bengaluru
- Existing 5% horizontal reservation in job scheme for those dislocated due to irrigation projects extended by 25 years.

Sources in the party, however, suggested that the decision to withdraw the nod came after multiple complaints were registered with the central leadership over the "arbitrary" decision to approve a deal that the BJP itself had protested against. Party MLAs, including Arvind Bellad and Basanagouda Patil Yatnal, had written to the Chief Minister expressing displeasure over the cabinet's decision to sell government land to JSW Steel.

"We had protested against it vehemently when the Congress-JDS coalition government proposed to sell the land in 2019. How could the Chief Minister approve its sale without consultation or discussion with the party since a stand had already been taken on the matter?" asked a senior BJP MLA.

Sewage to be tested to detect Covid clusters

ENS @ Bengaluru

ADDITIONAL Chief Secretary Rakesh Singh on Thursday said the state will test waste water in 45 wards of the city, to find clues to emerging Covid clusters. This system will cover 75% of the city's population, by generating around 90 data points per week. He was speaking at the virtual launch of the Precision Pandemic Surveillance Initiative platform #COVIDActionCollab. This platform will provide early warning signs through waste water surveillance to help identify, track and start early initiatives to control the spread.

The platform is launched by Restore Health and Wellness, in collaboration with United States Agency for International Development, Skoll Foundation, WHO and the State Government.

Dr Giridhar Babu, member of the State Advisory Committee, said that waste water assessment is effective to check the spread of infection, and added that a similar initiative was taken during the polio eradication drive. BWSSB Chairman N Jayaram said that last year, samples collected from 40 STPs were taken for a test to check for the presence of the virus, and the reports came negative. He added that the same would be done this year too.

Vishwanth S, water activist and urban planner, said, "Waste water study is very important as the water is also used for agriculture. So, the study will not just help in better health planning, but also in economical growth and the food sector."

TNIE had on April 22, 2020, carried an article titled 'Virus taking sewerage route? Hotspots crop up near STPs', explaining how a majority of Covid hotspots identified by the BBMP were found near STPs.

Med waste units threaten to halt work over dues

They say Covid hospitals run by govt, CCCs yet to make payments

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

UNABLE to manage operations owing to non-payment of dues by the State Government for over a year, the 26 biomedical waste treatment units in the state, which handle Covid-related waste, have threatened to stop operations from June 1.

The Common Biomedical Waste Treatment and Disposal Facility Operators Association president D K Nagaraj, who also runs one such unit in Hassan, told The New Indian Express that no payment had been made to the operators since March 2020.

"The only reason we paid our employees and bore all expenses from our own pockets is to prevent an environmental and health disaster in the state. Covid waste is dangerous and sensitive and extra precautions need to be taken by the staff while handling and incinerating them. We send our vehicles to both government and private hospitals to collect waste daily. If left uncollected, infection could spread and affect lives," Nagaraj said.

Barring districts like Chamarajanagar, Kodagu, Mandya, Hassan and Tumukuru, every district in Karnataka has a common disposal plant in place operated by private players. "While private hospitals and those run by the BBMP have been making payments for Covid waste clearance, no payment has been made to us by the Covid hospitals run by the government and their Covid Care Centres," he said.

The reason we paid our employees and bore all expenses from our own pockets is to prevent a health disaster in the state. Covid waste is dangerous and sensitive and extra precautions need to be taken

D K Nagaraj, The Common Biomedical Waste Treatment and Disposal Facility Operators Association president

The units totally handle 25,000 kg of waste each day. Despite repeated requests by the operators, the government is yet to release any payment. "By our calculations, we must be totally paid around Rs 10 crore," he said. Deputy Commissioners in some districts have released small sums to keep the units going, Nagaraj added.

The units had initially planned stop operations from May 10, but have given the government three more weeks time to redress the issue.

An official source familiar with the developments said the inability of the government to finalise the rates was the reason for the delay in payments. Regional Officer, Health Department, Rajkumar, did not respond to calls made by The New Indian Express. Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar could not be reached for comment.

Stricter lockdown in Mysuru from May 29

MYSURU: As Covid-19 cases continue to surge in Mysuru district, with more than 2,000 cases being reported each day despite lockdown, the district administration has decided to impose a complete lockdown from May 29 to June 7, allowing sale of essentials and groceries only two days a week. Deputy Commissioner Rohini Sindhuri on Thursday passed orders stating that groceries can only be purchased twice a week — Mondays and Thursdays (from 6 am to noon) — while other services, including medical services, Hopcoms, milk parlours and fair price shops can continue to operate even during the lockdown. Anti-fungal drug trickles in amid mucormycosis surge

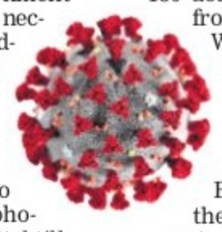
BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

HOSPITALS in the city continue to battle with a record number of cases of mucormycosis, or black fungus, with the most crucial anti-fungal drug — Amphotericin-B — being provided in "trickles" from the government. Hospitals, however, agree that government control of the drug is necessary to avoid hoarding and misuse.The Centre on Thursday allocated 5,190 vials of Amphotericin-B to Karnataka.

"There was zero availability of Amphotericin-B in the hospital till Wednesday morning, when we received 40 vials of the drug from the government. On Thursday evening, the vials were exhausted and we are back to zero stock of Amphotericin-B. In the last two weeks we have received 63 murcomycosis patients. Of them, 55 have been operated upon and six have passed away," said Dr Sanjiv Lewin, chief of medical services, St Johns Medical College & Hospital. He said in the absence of Amphotericin-B, the hospital is administering Posaconazole to patients, but there is a shortage of even this drug. "We have received 180 doses of Posaconazole from the government on Wednesday and we are now left with 40 doses," he said.



Surgical debridement accompanied with Amphotericin-B is key to controlling the infection. Nearly a century-old-disease, which was considered rare during the pre-Covid time, is now a medical surge with uncontrolled blood sugar and indiscriminate use of immuno-suppressant drugs to treat Covid patients emerging as the main reasons behind the rise in black fungus cases.

"We hardly used to see three to five cases in a year. Smaller hospitals may not have come across even a single case before the pandemic. Today, we have 35 cases in the hospital and we are getting Amphotericin-B in trickles from the government," said Dr Raman, consultant ENT specialist, Manipal Hospital, Old Airport Road.

Lack of Amphotericin-B makes treatment incomplete. "We do good surgeries, but feel disgusted at the end in the absence of the important arm of treatment," said Dr Raman.

"From 3-4 cases a year before Covid, we have recently operated on 70 patients in the hospital. The drugs are not freely available," said Dr Susheen Dutt, consultant ENT specialist, Fortis Hospital.

"It was an uncommon infection before Covid. We hardly got 30 cases in a year since the 1990s. In the last two weeks, the hospital has got 63 patients," said Dr Lewin.

Heavy movement cause for spike in Tumakuru, Mysuru

"We tested around 2,000 primary contacts and 500 symptomatic people. For each positive case, we try to test around 15 people," Uttara Kannada DHO Dr Sharath Nayak said.For Tumakuru, which is close to Bengaluru, officials observe that the case load and positivity rate mirror that of the state capital. "Before lockdown, 60,000 to 70,000 people were moving between Bengaluru and Tumakuru on a daily basis. The Covid spread was rampant," said Tumakuru DHO Dr M B Nagendrappa.The same reason applies in Mysuru, which has seen heavy movement to and from Bengaluru. District health officials of Mysuru and Hassan were not reachable for comment. In Koppal, the rate of infection spread is still high. District Surveillance Officer Dr Nanda Kumar said the impact of fewer cases will be visible after the lockdown.

B'luru hosp plans radiation therapy trials on Covid patients

RANJANI MADHAVAN @ Bengaluru

After studies by All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS) and others done abroad, clinical trials for Low dose radiation therapy (LDRT) on COVID-19 patients are set to begin at HCG Cancer Hospital in Bengaluru. Radiation refers to X-ray treatment.

They have registered the trials with HCG Hospitals Institutional Scientific and Ethics Committee as a possible treatment strategy for COVID-19 viral Pneumonia. It is said to hold promise in modulating the unregulated immune response that leads to fatal outcomes in progressive COVID-19 Pneumonia. While in cancer patients, 60-70 gray (Gy) of radiation is given, here it will be 0.5 Gy.

"It will suppress the cytokine storm and improve dependency on oxygen, mechanical ventilation and prevent lung damage. It could be an important treatment option for COVID-19 associated acute respiratory distress syndrome (ARDS), for those patients who are moderate to critical and for whom other treatment options are unsuccessful or unavailable. It can be used in combinations with other standard approved therapies like steroids, antiviral medication and oxygen," said Dr Lohit Reddy, Consultant Radiation Oncologist, Clinical lead-Radiomics and AI in cancer at HCG Hospital.

It will suppress the cytokine storm and improve dependency on oxygen, mechanical ventilation and prevent lung damage

Dr Lohit Reddy, HCG Hospital

The therapy will down regulate the cytokine storm which is a hyper inflammatory state. The toxicity and long term side effects will be lesser in LDRT as compared to the standard dose used for oncology radiation.

However, clinical trials have to tread with caution and learn from history in choosing the right patients and instituting treatment in the golden window of early progression of symptoms where response is most expected. Larger clinical trials will have to be done to validate its effectiveness, short term and long term risks and mechanism of low dosing. This trial will be done on a minimum of 10 patients, over a period of 1 to 1.5 months, in collaboration with the hospital's branch in Hubballi. "The trials done abroad have shown that the treatment is beneficial. Phase-3 trials are yet to conclude in other places. Based on the results of this experiment, the health ministry can approve it as standard of care," he said.

In the AIIMS study done last year, a total of 10 patients were recruited and treated from June to August 2020."One patient showed clinical deterioration and had to be intubated. He succumbed to ARDS on day 24. Rest 9 patients had completed clinical response and were discharged after their COVID test was negative," the study read.

Actor reaches out to tribals with ration kits

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @Tumakuru

Kannada actor Chetan Kumar of 'Aa Dinagalu' fame, is on a search for communities which are not visible, in a bid to reach out to them with relief. His newly-floated 'Chetan Foundation' has been handing out grocery kits and other help to people, through a network of fans.

From Pavagada's 'Shillekyata' community to Tiptur's transgenders to Bengaluru's cemetery workers, the foundation has been sending ration kits to those whose earnings have dried up due to the lockdown. The transgender community, in particular, is all praise for Chetan for his humanitarian gesture.

A fan of actor Chetan Kumar distributes ration kits to cemetery workers in Bengaluru, recently

The actor has also written to Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa to regularise the services of around 300 cemetery workers in Bengaluru, who have no security to fall back on.

"Please give them immediate medical assistance in terms of vaccines, insurance, beds and payments," the actor insisted. He claimed to have been in touch with Social Welfare Minister B Srirmulu on this issue, and is following it up.The actor was shocked that the Koraga community of Udupi was even now victims of 'ajjalu paddhati', a practice in which a section of caste Hindus forces them to eat nails and hair. This marginalised community also got grocery kits, with the actor's fans, Jagadish Gangolly and Vajarang, reaching out to them.

"I am planning to extend medical help to the needy in future, as my family is already running a cancer hospital in Hebbal, in Mysuru," he said.

Responding to a hypothetical question popped at him on him as CM, he smiled, "If I become the CM, the top priority will be redistribution of wealth. And it starts with me."

Hospital staff-distributor nexus blamed for illegal Remdesivir sale

MG CHETAN @ Bengaluru

Despite strict measures by the government to control the hoarding of Remdesivir injection, black-marketing of the drug, used in Covid-19 treatment, continues due to an alleged nexus between government and private hospital staff, distributors and pharmacists.

The city police have cracked dozens of cases related to the sale of the anti-viral drug in the last two months. The Central Crime Branch police alone have booked about 20 cases and arrested around 50 people, including doctors, seizing close to 150 vials, At the police station level, several cases have been registered.

However, police say that cases of black-marketing are declining as the government has streamlined the distribution from the drug controller's office, recently. By and large,it has been found that either a hospital or a pharmacy staffer is behind the racket.

"As there was a huge demand for the drug earlier, some people started hoarding it. They encashed on the demand by marketing the drug in black. In some cases, it was distributors and medical store owners who were selling the drug illegally, while in other cases, hospital staff were found to be involved," said Joint Commissioner of Police (Crime) Sandeep Patil."In most of the cases, hospital staff had misused the drug. If a patient was supposed to be administered 2-3 vials, they gave only one and stole the remaining to sell it in the black market," he said.

Another officer said private hospital staff who have been arrested, had fleeced patients who didn't have medical insurance. "If a patient had insurance, they raised indent through proper channels while patients availing cash treatment were told that the drug was not available, but assured of arranging one. They quoted a price based on the financial capacity of patients and sourced the drug from pharmacists or staff of government hospitals," he said.

Bed-blocking: Helpline staffer among 2 more held

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Central Crime Branch (CCB) police have arrested two more persons on Wednesday, including a youth working as a helpline staffer in Covid War Room of BBMP South Zone, in the ongoing probe into the alleged irregularities in allotting beds to Covid-19 patients. Those arrested are Varun S (20), the war room staffer, and his friend Yashwanth Kumar M (21), a resident of Banashankari Stage 3.

Police said that Varun was facilitating beds for Covid-19 patients. It was found that he collected the contact details of patients and their family members and passed them on to his friend Yashwanth Kumar. "Yashwant contacted the patients and their family members and told them that he would arrange a bed for them and demanded money. "The duo is being questioned to ascertain how many people they have received money from for arranging beds," Joint Commissioner of Police (Crime) Sandeep Patil said.

Coast Guard rescues TN, Kerala fishermen

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mangaluru

INDIAN Coast Guard (ICG) rescued 10 fishermen from Tamil Nadu and Kerala from a boat 'Lord of The Ocean' that was stranded in the Arabian Sea, 20 nautical miles off the coast of New Mangalore. An ICG release said the boat transmitted a distress message through VHF to the Maritime Rescue Sub-Coordination Centre New Mangalore. The Coast Guard swiftly diverted a C-448 on patrol for assistance and ICGS Rajdoot sailed from Mangalore Port for rescue operations.

The fishing boat had taken shelter in Porbandar on May 14 due to Cyclone Tauktae. The fishing boat set sail from Porbandar on May 19 whilst facing rough seas enroute off New Mangalore when the boat encountered engine failure, thereby losing propulsion.

Gangrape comes to light in B'luru, thanks to Assam, Bengal police

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A horrific gangrape that took place in Ramamurthynagar about a week ago, came to the notice of Bengaluru police, thanks to their counterparts in Assam and West Bengal.

A gang of five, including a woman, brutally tortured and sexually abused a young woman at a house in Ramamurthynagar. The accused recorded the entire incident on a mobile phone and posted the video, which went viral, on social media.

Assam and West Bengal police noticed the video, and the former even tweeted about it. Neither knew where the incident had taken place. When West Bengal police alerted their counterparts in all cities, Bengaluru police realised it had taken place in the city.

A thorough probe was launched, during which police received a tip-off about the gang. Four men — Sagar, Mohammed Baba Sheikh, Ridoy Babu and Hakeel — were arrested in Avalahalli, but the accused woman is absconding. Police have not disclosed her name.

The survivor, who left the city without informing anyone, is said to be from Bangladesh, and was living illegally in a rented house in Ramamurthynagar for a few years, a senior police officer said. They gang was allegedly running a prostitution racket. The victim, whose age is yet to be determined, had reportedly run away with some money. The kingpin of the racket traced her and assaulted her when she refused to return the money, and the four men sexually abused her.

All the accused were remanded in police custody, and efforts are on to nab the accused woman.

Arkalgud MLA immerses Doreswamy's ashes

@Ramanathapura (Hassan)

ARKALGUD MLA and a close associate of freedom fighter H S Doreswamy, A T Ramaswamy, conducted the final ritual of dispersing the late centenarian Gandhian's ashes and offering puja on the banks of the River Cauvery on Thursday.

Interestingly, ATR didn't immerse his ashes in the river as is usually the tradition because Cauvery is also known as Dakshina Kashi, to avoid pollution. The MLA instead dispersed his ashes among the coconut trees in front of Rameshwara Temple on the riverbank and near his house.

ATR said that the latter never compromised on any issue despite many people trying to lure him with by offering many things. He raised his voice for various issues through non violence and peace. Recalling his friendship with Doreswamy, ATR said that the state has never seen a like Doreswamy. He said the freedom fighter had called him over the telephone six days ago, asking him to continue fighting for just causes. Doreswamy also asked him to become his successor, the MLA recalled with deep sorrow.

MEKEDATU PROJECT

K'taka govt to challenge NGT order

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE State Government on Thursday decided to challenge the National Green Tribunal (NGT) order on the formation of a committee to look into the alleged violations by the State in the Mekedatu balancing reservoir project.

Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa on Thursday held a meeting with Home, Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister Basavaraj Bommai, Chief Secretary N Ravi Kumar, Advocate General Prabhuling Navadgi and legal experts to discuss Karnataka's legal strategy in the case.

Bommai said they have decided to challenge the order before the NGT bench that took the suo-motu case based on a media report.

On Tuesday, the NGT had taken up a case based on a report in media about a dirt road in the Mekedatu project area and ordered the formation of a committee to look into alleged violations and submit a report.

"The NGT ordered the formation of a committee based on a report in media. It is not appropriate and we have decided to appeal the NGT bench to reconsider its order," Bommai added.

The Mekedatu balancing reservoir and drinking water project near Kanakapura is aimed at providing drinking water to Bengaluru and surrounding areas and also generate power. Tamil Nadu has been opposing the project.

Bommai had earlier stated that Karnataka was using its share of water and the matter was before the Supreme Court.

RETHINK REFORMS IN LAKSHADWEEP, REIN IN ADMINISTRATOR

The tiny islands that make up the Union Territory of Lakshadweep are in turmoil, their distinctive tranquillity broken by noises of anger, desperation and dissent. The islanders are upset about a series of recent disruptions in their lives and apprehensive about a set of proposed laws with the potential to alter the very character of the archipelago. With political parties, civil society and netizens in Kerala and elsewhere lending their voice to the anger against what they consider brazen attempts to disturb the socio-cultural, demographic and natural uniqueness of the islands, the administrator, Praful Khoda Patel, is in the eye of a raging storm.

The apprehensions are not without basis. The administration led by Patel, who took over in December 2020, has already razed huts erected by fishermen citing violation of the Coastal Regulation Zone rules and Coast Guard Act, and removed non-vegetarian items from the school midday meal menu. It has been busy framing new laws, some of which, if implemented, could impact the rights and lives of people. The proposed beef ban is one such. While the proposed land regulations give sweeping powers to the government to pick any land for developmental activities and interfere with people's right to possess properties, the Panchayat Regulation, 2021, bars those with over two children from contesting local polls. Patel's decisions to allow liquor sales in three islands (earlier restricted to one) in the name of tourism promotion and change SOPs for emergency air evacuation of patients have also angered the islanders. Besides, they blame him for the Covid spread in the islands, which remained free of the virus till January. Patel had relaxed quarantine and travel rules after taking over.

Lakshadweep has an extremely fragile ecosystem and developmental activities there have severe limitations. Besides, the islands have unique traditions and culture, and reforms that could have a bearing on those should not be enforced unilaterally. The government must rethink the proposed reforms and make islanders stakeholders in any future developmental activities. The administrator, who has failed to understand the interests of the people he is required to take care of, must be reined in.

BATTERY OF TESTS FOR ODISHA

The Odisha government is in an unenviable position. As if battling the Covid-19 surge was not enough, it now has to deal with the aftermath of a cyclone that battered parts of the state on Wednesday. More than half a million people had to be evacuated to cyclone shelters so that they could be protected from nature's fury. While it worked, Yaas has left in its trail scores of villages inundated by the tidal surge, with power and communication hit. As the government gets down to post-cyclone assessment and restoration work, Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik undertook an aerial survey of the affected zones on Thursday. Prime Minister Narendra Modi too is scheduled to fly in to take stock of the situation on Friday.

Odisha has always been a favourite hunting ground for tropical cyclones. It was left in tatters when Fani pummelled the coastal districts in 2019. Last year, it had a close shave with Amphan. However, with Yaas, it has found itself between the proverbial devil and the deep sea. Post-cyclone reconstruction must be taken up, but the natural disaster has only exposed the people, administration and large relief and rescue workforce to the virus risk across coastal districts.

The state administration has a tough task at hand because the Covid spread has not slowed down despite three weeks of lockdown. Whereas most big states, barring Tamil Nadu, have registered a decline in the daily caseloads and positivity rates, Odisha has been moving on a plateau with no drop in sight. It is a reason for worry because the lockdown is going to end on June 1 without the desired outcome. The test positivity rate continues to be a strong 18% despite the state reporting 10,000-plus cases and over 60,000 tests a day. As he pushes on with post-cyclone restoration work, Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik would have to walk a tightrope. He could end the lockdown at the cost of potential increase in Covid spread, or extend it further at the expense of livelihood. For the champion of disaster management, it seems there is no end to the battery of tests.

Management principles and processes need not be restricted to companies. The same can also be applied to make states more accountable and transparent

USING MANAGEMENT THEORY TO GOVERN STATES

ASHOKE K MAITRA

Founder & CEO, Sri Ramakrishna International Institute of Management

SOUMYADIP SINHA

Peter Drucker is considered as the father of management. He was a knowledgeable person and asked some piercing and hard-hitting questions to companies to improve their awareness to run businesses effectively. His theories in management can be adapted to the governance of states as well.

Management theory, principles and processes should not be restricted to companies. The same can also be applied to make states more accountable, transparent and responsible for governance.

We have witnessed a fierce surge of Covid-19 in India. We had historical evidence that almost all countries had dealt with a bad second wave of Covid-19. India had dealt with Covid impressively in the first wave. But no one perhaps expected such a violent second wave and therefore preparations fell short.

Companies like Shell and even the Indian military routinely forecast different scenarios, predict the outcome and do contingency planning to prepare for any eventuality. The NITI Aayog, which is the planning wing of the Central government, perhaps could have used a tool called 'scenario planning' in management and forecasted different possibilities. It could have asked the Union government and states to make contingency plans. This could have helped in making preparations for oxygen, hospital beds, vaccination, medicines and doctors to face the second wave better. However, the Centre has moved fast and progress has been made to get oxygen, medicines, etc., and the second wave seems to be coming down.

For the benefit of companies and state leaders, I am mentioning some questions Prof. Drucker asked to improve planning and govern effectively.

1. "What is your mission?" Mission tells us what we want to achieve. Does your company or state have a clear mission as to what it wants to achieve by the next year and in the next three years? Is it clear about the objectives it wants to achieve and what it wants to see as the results? Has it developed milestones and evaluation parameters?

When Joe Biden became the President of the US, he set a mission that the US would vaccinate 200 million people in 100 days of his being in office. He has achieved it and the US is going back to normalcy. It is always a good idea to pick up the best practices in management. We can also create a vaccination mission and roll it out. India is a vast country with 1.35 billion people and therefore it is not easy. However, vaccination is the only solution.

2. "Is your company or state clear in what it should be known for, or known as? What is the perception you want to create in the minds of the citizens? Do you have a communication plan as to how you will build the image of your state or company by implementing some solid good work?"

The NITI Aayog, which is the planning wing of the Centre, perhaps could have used a tool called 'scenario planning' in management. It could have asked the Union government and states to make contingency plans. This could have helped in making preparations for oxygen, hospital beds, vaccination, etc. to tackle the second Covid wave

We are witnessing in state after state that when the CM has done real good work for citizens, she/he is getting elected for second and third terms.

3. "What is the value proposition of your company or state?" In the present geopolitical context, no one is alone. We are always competing with others. All countries and companies will need to have a value proposition. If your company or state has a value proposition, it will help it differentiate itself from others and get out of the clutter. The question to ask is how do we differentiate ourselves from others.

4. "Who is your customer?" How well do you know your customers? What do they want from you? Who is the customer for the chief minister of a state? Is the CM making attempts to know his/her citizens and trying to understand what they want?

5. "What is your business plan for the next year? What do you want to achieve?" A CEO/CM has to make a business plan, not just a budget, to govern the state.

6. "What can I, as a leader, contribute that can significantly impact the results of the institution I serve?" Jim Collins, an American researcher on business management, says a good leader has great vision and is ruthlessly driven for results.

7. "What should be the personal traits of a leader?" A true leader should be modest. Collins wrote in his book Good To Great that Level-5 leaders are self-effacing, listen attentively and very humble. He said that no company can grow where the truth cannot be heard. I guess the same applies to the nation and states. We must increase the agility of employees by engaging them to give ideas and allowing them to experiment. We must implement OKR as Google, Facebook, etc., are doing.

We have been advising companies to use scenario planning to forecast different possibilities and prepare for the future. We also ask the above questions to the top management of the companies so that they can think and create plans to improve productivity and profitability. This process has helped a large number of BFSI, media, agrochemical and manufacturing companies to improve profits.

DEATH, BE NOT PROUD: A TRIBUTE TO RAW'S CHANDRU

V SURYANARAYAN

Founding Director (Retd.), Centre for South & Southeast Asian Studies, University of Madras

When, on the evening of May 14, a friend telephoned and informed me about the sad demise of Dr Subrahmanyam Chandrasekharan (Chandru to most of his intimate friends), I thought he had also fallen victim to the dreaded Covid, which had been claiming hundreds of lives every day. When I established contact with family members they told me he died of cardiac arrest. The only consolation being, instead of the authorities cremating the dead body, the family members could perform all religious rites according to family traditions.

As I was reflecting on the irreparable loss caused by Chandru's death, the famous lines of John Donne came to my mind: "Death, be not proud, though some called thee mighty and dreadful, for thou are not so … one short sleep past, we wake eternally, and death shall be no more, Death, thou shall die".

Chandru retired as Additional Secretary, Cabinet Secretariat (RAW). He was in charge of India's Sri Lanka operations for many years. He served the country with great distinction. A man of immense wit and wisdom, he made benign inputs into the making of India's neighbourhood policy. After his retirement, he launched the South Asia Analysis Group in 1998, the web-based strategic think tank, and made it one of the foremost sources of information of the region under his dynamic leadership.

I count among my good friends many retired senior officials from RAW. I came to know most of them only after their retirement, when they came down to Chennai or Bengaluru from New Delhi and joined think tanks with which I was closely associated. They include Shri B Raman, R Swaminathan, S Gopal and D S Rajan. My frequent conversations and close interaction enabled me to have a better appreciation of India's intelligence agencies and how they worked to promote India's vital interests.

My first meeting with Chandru took place under strange circumstances. I had organised a national seminar on "Sri Lankan Crisis and India's Response" at the Madras University in March 1991. Among those who participated in the Seminar were K P S Menon, former Foreign Secretary; Ambassador Thomas Abraham, who was Indian High Commissioner in Sri Lanka from 1978 to 1982; the TULF triumvirate (Amirtalingam, Sivasitambaram, and Sambanthan); S Sivanayagam, Chief of Tamil Information Centre; leading public figures and faculty, and students of Madras University. V D Chopra, editor of Patriot, who was in charge of Patriot Publishers agreed to publish the proceedings in a book form. When the manuscript was about to go to press, he informed me that a senior government official, involved closely with India's Sri Lanka policy, has also agreed to contribute an essay. The book was published with a thought-provoking foreword by Ambassador M K Rasgotra, who was foreign secretary when New Delhi decided to pursue the mediatory-militant supportive policy.

A few weeks later a gentleman came to my room and introduced himself as Chandrasekharan. He told me that he had given an essay to Chopra to be included in my edited volume. Chandru, at that time, was a PhD scholar in the Department of Geography. He wanted to get acquainted with me. He had read my articles in newspapers and magazines.

S Chandrasekharan retired as Additional Secretary, Cabinet Secretariat (RAW). He was in charge of India's Sri Lanka operations for many years. ... RAW was portrayed, on both sides of the Palk Strait, as the villain in the Sri Lankan tragedy. He provided me with vital information that enabled me to put forth the point of view of RAW too in a book

What impressed me most about Chandru was that he was attired in simple clothes. He did not put on any airs generally associated with top echelons of Indian bureaucracy. And, above all, he shared valuable information because he was convinced that I would not speak or write about confidential matters. I began to write regularly for SAAG from its very inception. Our friendship got strengthened day by day. I was very happy when Chandru informed me that he was shifting residence to Chennai. Though the family moved to Chennai a few weeks ago, I could not meet them because of Covid.

My latest English book published last year, co-authored with Dr Ashik Bonofer and titled Haksar on India's Sri Lanka Policy, is a "book on a book", as Jairam Ramesh aptly put it in the launch function. It is based on the letters written by P N Haksar to Ambassador Thomas Abraham that are very critical of India's Sri Lanka Policy. These are included in Jairam Ramesh's scintillating book Intertwined Lives: P N Haksar and Indira Gandhi. To make the book interesting, I had provided background information on the issues raised by Haksar.

Since RAW was portrayed, on both sides of the Palk Strait, as the villain in the Sri Lankan tragedy, I showed the manuscript to Chandru. He provided me with vital information that enabled me to place the point of view of RAW too in the Sri Lankan tragedy. In that process, I could expose many falsehoods and lies propagated by the drummer boys of Prabhakaran and Anton Balsingham in the book War and Peace: Armed Struggle and Peace Efforts of Liberation Tigers. Chandru also wrote a critical review of the book in SAAG.

Two months ago, Chandru telephoned me and said, "Come home once normalcy returns. I shall give you a lot of materials on Sri Lanka that have not been used before." I was very happy to hear those words. But God willed otherwise. Chandru was snatched away by the cruel hands of fate.

As I was writing this essay on my close association with Chandru, I realised I hardly knew anything about his family. Our conversation veered only around Sri Lanka. He has left a deep void in my life. The famous lines of Robert G Ingersoll, those lines that came to me with added poignancy on the morrow of my father's death, are worth quoting: "The record of a generous life runs like a vine around the memory of our dead and every sweet, unselfish act is now a perfumed flower. Neither written word nor speech can express our love. There was no gentler, stronger, manlier man."

Post-Yaas challenges

The Odisha government has done remarkable work to minimise the damage due to Cyclone Yaas. The new challenge is to still maintain Covid norms in these uncertain times as many affected people will be in shelter homes due to damage to their residences.

Rising child marriages in TN

That child marriages are on the rise in some districts of Tamil Nadu is painful to read (May 27). What happened to the safety of young girls? The often already anaemic teenage girls, when married off too early, face a lot of health and emotional issues. Parents need education, girls need protection and training in self-defence, and the government requires will power.

Will China, US pay?

This is with reference to Covid-19: The villian, bats or bat lady? (May 27). As usual, it is a superbly researched article by the author with chilling details. No wonder China is cocky about the whole issue; it knows it has the backing of leading US virologists. Both China and the US appear to be equally guilty for the 3.5 million deaths due to the Wuhan virus. Will they pay? It is doubtful as they are both powerful countries.

Probe virus leak

This is with reference to Covid Culpability : A conspiracy of silence (May 22). The article is thought-provoking. Millions of people across the world had to meet an untimely death due to the coronavirus. China was also reluctant to take prompt action to contain the spread of the virus. And it failed to share vital information with the WHO early in the outbreak. It is now widely believed that the virus escaped from the virology institute in Wuhan. International agencies should probe this and impose heavy fines on China if found guilty for the mass deaths and suffering due to the virus.

Address vaccine wastage

Despite the extension of the inoculation programme to all adults, it is sad that the wastage of vaccines in some states is continuing along with a massive drop in jab percentage compared to the previous month. This indicates poor awareness in rural areas. The fatalities are still increasing in Tamil Nadu and vaccination is the only remedy.

Lost, yet kept his promise

Despite his defeat in the Assembly election, E Sreedharan has kept his promise to voters and ensured that their power dues were paid. This is laudable in an age when even elected representatives forget their promises after polls.

Living amid lockdowns

Ever since the beginning of the coronavirus pandemic last year, social distancing norms have made the human experience unique. This prevents people from effectively socialising, which is a fundamental human need. We need to find various ways to maintain physical and emotional connections even during Covid lockdowns.

Left unity needed

The future of the Communist parties became bleak as they got divided into several groups due to power-hungry leaders (Official Marxism in India & the global trend, May 27). Now that Kerala alone is ruled by the Left, the only recourse is the unity of all groups with the same ideology.

On AICTE language move

The AICTE intends to allow change of the medium of instruction in engineering colleges to regional languages. WILL U.S. POLITICS BURY OR EXPOSE TRUTH?

S GURUMURTHY
Editor, Thuglak, and commentator on economic and political affairs

RESPECTED science writer Nicholas Wade uncovers more. About how the guild of virology obfuscated, the World Health Organisation was suborned, the anti-Trump US media kept silent and the divided US polity let the culprit escape. Being a disciplined writer he did not touch the most sensitive subject — the link between the Wuhan Institute of Virology (WIV) and the PLA (Chinese military), which is now coming out. With the risky cooperative venture of the two friendly powers now in conflict endangering the world, where does all this leave the US and China, the world and its future? Read on.

One-sided love

With no ancient history to learn from and guided only by recent histories in its geopolitical strategies, the US is paying for its post-Cold War assumption that a prosperous China would eventually democratise. A great Indian seer said as far back as in 1973 that "communism was a passing phase in China and a Confucian China would emerge out of Communist China with its empire building instincts intact." The modern minded America missed this historic ancient buried deep in the communist China's consciousness. The Marxist state in China pretended to be a market economy and mesmerised the US to admit it into the WTO in 2001. Exactly 18 years later in 2019, the US and the EU were heard crying in the WTO that China was not a market economy. The WTO finally declared it was not.

This shows US shortsightedness and how farsighted China was. The advent of Trump was too late for America, as by that time commercial interests had become so dependent on the supply chains from China that the US had lost its leverage over it. In too many areas, the US and China had joint exercises with China having undisclosed undercover intent and operations. The focused China cleverly co-opted the defocused US in the dirty coronavirus research. The exposures embarrassed both but the US most.

Wade imagines what the behind-the-scenes conversation between the US and China could be, with the Chinese saying, "If this research was so dangerous, why did you fund it, and on our territory too?" The US side could retort, "Looks like it was you who let it escape. But do we really need to have this discussion in public?" Wade says that with Anthony Fauci, director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases, falling out with Trump but now handling the epidemic for President Joe Biden, the Congress will have little appetite to haul him for funding Shi Zhengli's evil work at WIV. Result, just as China is keen to bury the truth about the WIV-generated virus, the US, too, will be keen to let China do it.

Wade says in universities 'speech can be costly', 'careers can be destroyed for stepping out of line' and any one 'challenging the community's declared view risks having his next grant application not approved by the community heads

Virologists suppress

And now come to the scientist guild. When the virus outbreak in Wuhan pointed at the WIV as the source, a group of virologists and others wrote in the Lancet on Feb 9, 2020 that "We stand together to strongly condemn conspiracy theories suggesting that Covid-19 does not have a natural origin" and that "scientists overwhelmingly conclude that this coronavirus originated in wildlife." They gave a call to stand with Chinese colleagues on the frontline in the fight against the disease. This was, says Wade, when it was really far too soon for anyone to be sure what had happened. Yet, this had a great impact on global opinion.

A second one that had enormous influence in shaping public attitudes was a letter authored by a group of virologists published in the journal Nature Medicine on 17 March 2020. While para 2 of the letter declared with certainty that SARS-2 "was not a laboratory construct", its latter part said that it was "improbable" that it was lab manipulated, indicating its certainty had slipped several notches down. Yet no one would dare ask them. Why? Wade says that in universities 'speech can be costly', 'careers can be destroyed for stepping out of line' and any one 'challenging the community's declared view risks having his next grant application not approved by the community heads. Virologists, says Wade, are a loose-knit professional community, writing articles in the same journals, attending the same conferences, and having common interests in seeking funds from governments. This points to a more serious danger — of an oligarchy controlling the science establishment.

WHO manipulated

Now examine WHO's role. First, it obligingly implied the natural evolution theory in naming the virus. Next, the composition of the WHO commission to probe whether it was natural evolution or man-made was heavily controlled by the Chinese authorities. Wade says that its members, who included the ubiquitous Peter Daszak (head of NGO Eco-Health Alliance, through which US funds were routed to WIV) kept asserting before, during and after the visit to WIV that lab escape was unlikely.

The Chinese had no evidence in support of the natural emergence theory. The commission's non-conclusion about both natural evolution and lab leak "was not quite the propaganda victory the Chinese authorities may have been hoping for", according to Wade. He is sure that China's central authorities did their utmost to conceal the nature of the tragedy and China's responsibility for it, suppressed all records at the WIV and closed down its virus databases; released a trickle of information, either false or designed to misdirect and mislead; and did their best to manipulate the WHO's inquiry into the virus' origins. Chinese were far more interested in deflecting blame than in taking steps to prevent a second pandemic.

Natural emergence, which, Wade says, was the media's preferred theory until around the February 2021 visit by a WHO commission to China, is no more unquestioned. In the end, the manipulated WHO mission that neither found the truth nor helped the Chinese, stands most discredited.

Divided US, silenced media

Citing the deafening silence of mainstream US media on the lab leak issue, Wade rightly points to the absence of an in-depth news story of the virus that has killed 3.5 million people — something that should merit serious investigation. He mentions two reasons for the media's lethargy. First is the virologists' opinion. Second, because President Trump said the virus had escaped from a Wuhan lab, the media, most of which had migrated to the left of the political spectrum, gave the idea little credence. They preferred to join the respectable virologists' view that the lab escape was a dismissible conspiracy theory, and rejected the position of the US intelligence services that lab escape could not be ruled out. Clearly, the political divide silenced the media, too.

WIV-PLA link

As a disciplined science writer, Wade talks of only benign leak of the deadly virus from WIV. But many see sinister designs behind the construction of the evil virus at WIV. Brazilian President Jair Bolsonaro has openly said that coronavirus is a bio-war weapon and Covid-19 is bio-war. Brazil has 10 times India's death rate and three times our infection rate.

Next, a fact sheet in January 2021 from the US State Department under the subhead "Secret military activity at the WIV," said "the US has determined" that the WIV has collaborated with Chinese military on secret projects, engaging in classified research, including lab animal experiments since at least 2017.

Adding that the Chinese have been engaging in bio-weapons work, it said that the US and others who funded or collaborated with the WIV had an obligation to find out whether any research fund was diverted to secret Chinese military projects.

Three, a Begin-Sadat Centre paper says that the US had been able to get a 'source' from WIV directly, and that another Chinese scientist had defected to an unknown European country with information on the military side of the WIV. The study also quotes David Asher, who led a Department of State investigation, as saying the WIV has two campuses, surprisingly adding that it was known to the Indian authorities for years. Asher says that all mention of the SARS virus was dropped from the institute's publicly admitted biological "defence programmes" by 2017, about the same time when the second lab kicked off operations. Four, the UK-based Sun newspaper, quoting the Australian media, says that the Chinese Army has projected that the next world war would be fought with bio-weapons and for that purpose, it developed in 2015 coronaviruses to destroy the enemy's health infrastructure. It added that the US State Department has obtained Chinese documents that disclose the design. Undeniably, WIV is mixed up with heinous work.

US fact sheet in January last says all donors who funded or collaborated on civilian research at the Wuhan Institute of Virology have a right to determine whether any of their funding was diverted to secret Chinese military projects

World and China

Where has all this left the world? Health, peace, livelihood and families of most humanity are destroyed and most national economies are stressed because of the deadly virus whose supply chain is undoubtedly sourced in China and spread to the entire humanity with no exception. But China, the purveyor of the virus and already an emerging superpower, is safe with its economy on a high growth curve. With its military might, it can overawe all nations distressed by the bio-virus exported by it.

Will US-China politics bury or expose?

Now come to the US divided within and its China relations. When Avril Haines, President Biden's director of national intelligence, said the WIV lab leak cannot be ruled out, she was largely ignored. But of late the Biden administration and the US media are becoming active in questioning the natural evolution theory.

Fauci himself said that the lab escape theory cannot be ruled out. The Wall Street Journal recently reported a fact sheet of the State Department during Trump's tenure, which had found that even before the outbreak of coronavirus, in November 2019, researchers at WIV sought hospital care with symptoms consistent with Covid-19. It adds to the call for probe into lab escape, the WSJ said. Politico magazine said that in the same fact sheet, US diplomats who had visited the WIV in 2018, warned that the WIV researchers had found new bat coronaviruses that could easily infect human cells, but no one listened then.

The media and the Biden administration are under pressure to tell the truth and act. But will they? Or will they buckle under pressure and bury the truth?

Wade hopes that the "The common sense perception that a pandemic breaking out in Wuhan might have something to do with a Wuhan lab cooking up novel viruses of maximal danger could eventually displace the ideological insistence that whatever Trump said can't be true." Being a democratic nation, burying such an elephantine truth is impossible in the US. CONCLUDED

Top govt advisory blames states for chaotic vaccination drive

MANISH ANAND @ New Delhi

AMID continuing criticism of its vaccination policy, the Centre on Thursday tasked its top Covid-19 advisor V K Paul to bust "myths" with "facts".

Getting right on to the task, Paul charged that the vaccination drive had been going on smoothly until the states sought "opening up of the process and decentralisation".

He listed out seven widely talked about "myths" on the vaccination drive.

Shifting the blame for a chaotic vaccination drive to the states, Paul said: "The Centre ran the entire vaccine program from January to April, and it was quite well-administrated compared to the situation in May (new policy came in force from May 1, allowing those above 18 years for vaccinations)."

Responding to criticism from some state governments that the Centre should be procuring vaccines instead of the states, Paul said, "The GoI has merely enabled the states to try procuring vaccines on their own, on their explicit requests".

Hitting out at some states over failed global tenders to procure vaccinations, Paul said, "States, that had not even achieved good coverage of healthcare workers and frontline workers in three months wanted to open up the process of vaccination and wanted more decentralisation." He added, "Health is a state subject & the liberalised vaccine policy was a result of the incessant requests being made by the states to give states more power. The fact that global tenders have not given any results only reaffirms what we have been telling the states from day one: that vaccines are in short supply in the world and it is not easy to procure them at short notice."

Responding to claims that the Centre has not approved vaccines available globally, Paul said it has proactively eased the entry of vaccines approved by US FDA, EMA, UK's MHRA and Japan's PMDA, and WHO's Emergency Use Listing into India in April.

At times, Paul's exercise of busting the myths included thinly-veiled attacks on opposition leaders. "The behaviour of some of our leaders, who in spite of full knowledge of the facts on vaccine supply, appear on TV daily and create panic among the people is very unfortunate," he said without naming anyone.

Second wave of Covid-19 showing signs of easing

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Centre on Thursday said the number of active cases and the test-positivity rate have seen a decline, indicating that India is possibly witnessing a downswing in the second wave of Covid-19.

The number of active cases, which hit the 40-lakh mark in the first week of May, has come down to 24 lakhs. In the last 17 days alone, the active case count has declined by about 13 lakh.

The test positivity rate (seven-day moving average) has fallen to less than 10% after crossing 21% earlier this month. "It is reassuring that we are on the downswing of the second wave, and it will be sustained if restrictions open up systematically as the time comes," said V K Paul, who also heads the national Covid-19 task force.

The figures presented by the Union health ministry in a press briefing on Thursday showed that there is a steady decline in daily Covid-19 cases since May 7, when India recorded 4,14,188 new infections. In contrast, in the 24 hours to Thursday morning, the country recorded 2,11,298 new cases.

Among the new cases, 33,764 were reported from Tamil Nadu—the most in the country. Neighbouring Kerala reported 28,798 new cases.

Active cases fell to 24.19 lakh on Thursday—a reduction of over 75,000 from the previous day. However, India on Thursday recorded 3,847 deaths due to the infection. Of this, 1,013 deaths were from Maharashtra. Karnataka reported 530 deaths and Tamil Nadu 475.

India's official Covid-19 toll has crossed 3.15 lakh.

The recovery rate, which on May 3 was 81.8%, which went up to 85.6% on May 18. At present it stands at 90%. "This is a positive indication," said Lav Agarwal, joint secretary in the health ministry urging people to continue following the Covid protocols.

In a further good sign, the number of vaccines administered daily has gone up. On Thursday, 26,58,218 doses were administered. A total of 20.54 crore people have been vaccinated as of Thursday. This includes 1.5 crore people in the 18-44 age group.

Centre rubbishes NYT report

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Centre on Wednesday rubbished a report by The New York Times that said India's official Covid-19 death and case counts are much less than the actual figures.

Lav Agarwal, joint secretary in the Union ministry of health and family welfare called the report "completely false and baseless".

The New York Times on Wednesday put out a report claiming that the official toll of 3.1 lakh may be misleading and "a more likely" figure could be 16 lakhs. According to the daily, in the worst-case scenario as many as 42 lakh people may have died.

"This entire report is baseless and false. We don't know on what basis this estimation work was done. We have a robust system in place," Lav Agarwal said.

V K Paul, the chairman of the national Covid-19 task force said, "Our serosurvey has shown that the actual infection mortality could be 0.05%—so on what basis has this news reports calculated by imaginary mortality rates of 0.3 and 0.6%?" he asked.

UPA-ruled states have better jab coverage: Cong

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

WITH the Centre and the states engaged in a war of words over vaccine shortage, the Congress on Thursday put out data showing at least 43% of people above the age of 45 have received at least one dose of Covid vaccine in UPA-ruled states, while in NDA-ruled states, the figure is 30%. The national average stands at 34%.

Several states have complained that they have had to shut several vaccination centres due to a shortage of vaccines and they have asked the Centre for more stocks.

Congress general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra released a video in which she lashed out at the Centre for alleged delay in vaccine procurement. "The Government of India owes the people of India answers," she said asking why the government placed its first order for vaccines only in January.

"Why is India, one of the largest manufacturers of vaccines in the world facing a scarcity today? Why was the first order or vaccines by the government of India placed in January 2021 when other countries began placing their orders in the summer of 2020? Why did our government export six crore vaccines between January and March 2021 while vaccinating only 3.5 crore Indians during the same period of time? The government of India owes the people of India answers. We have to ask them questions and they have to answer us," she asked. Initially, the Centre had said that the states can source vaccines from manufacturing companies but Moderna has allegedly refused to send vaccines directly to Punjab and Delhi governments.

Tejpal verdict's judge criticised for 'revealing identity'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

Sessions court judge's question

Acquitting Tejpal, the court had held the woman's behaviour was a key factor, saying if she wasn't in good state of mind, why would she disclose her location.

THE Bombay High Court at Goa on Thursday directed sessions judge Kshama Joshi, who acquitted journalist Tarun Tejpal in a 2013 sexual assault case, to redact portions of her judgement that could reveal the identity of the woman before the order is uploaded on the judicial portal.

However, the judgement is already in public domain. Justice SC Gupte's order came while the bench was hearing an urgent appeal by the Goa government, represented by Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, challenging the May 21 judgement. The court also gave Goa government three days to put the order on record and amend the grounds of appeal.

According to section 228A of the Indian Penal Code, disclosure of the identity of victims of certain offences is punishable. Supreme Court, in a ruling, had said: "Keeping in view the social object of preventing the victims or ostracising of victims, it would be appropriate that in judgments of all the courts the name of the victim should not be indicated."

In March this year, the top court had passed a ruling for judges while handling cases of sexual crimes against women. "The role of all courts is to make sure that the survivor can rely on their impartiality and neutrality, at every stage in a criminal proceeding, where she is the survivor and an aggrieved party. Even an indirect undermining of this responsibility... shakes the confidence of the rape survivor (or accuser of the crime) in the impartiality of the court."

Even Attorney General KK Venugopal told the Supreme Court there is no course on gender compulsorily taught in law schools, and that some law schools have the subject either as a specialisation or as an elective. Sensitisation of judges, especially those dealing with sexual assault cases and rape, should be done.

In her judgement, sessions judge Joshi said the prosecution had failed to prove its case beyond reasonable doubt and gave Tejpal the benefit of doubt. She also questioned "contradictions" in the victim's testimony, her post-assault conduct and the "destruction" of inconvenient evidence by the prosecution.

15 days for OTTs, digital news sites to comply

Ministry seeks information under rules introduced this year, National Broadcasters Association expresses concern

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Ministry of Information and Broadcasting (I&B) has sought compliance reports from digital news websites and OTT platforms in 15 days.

In a notice dated May 26, the ministry attached three separate forms for OTT platforms — print or TV outlets with digital channels and digital-only news websites — and asked them to furnish information under Rule 18 of the Information Technology (Intermediary Guidelines and Digital Media Ethics Code) Rules, 2021.

According to the government's new rules, the three-level grievance redressal mechanism will include self-regulation by publishers within 15 days, self-regulation by publishers' self-regulating bodies which will address grievances not resolved in a fortnight, and oversight mechanism by the I&B ministry which will establish an inter-departmental committee for hearing grievances. The government had notified these rules in February.

"The publishers may furnish the information to the ministry in the applicable format within 15 days of the issue of this notice," said the ministry. "Since newspapers are registered under Press and Registration of Books Act, 1867, and private satellite TV channels are permission holders under the uplinking and downlinking guidelines of the ministry, a separate format for furnishing information...has been devised for such entities publishing news and current affairs on digital media," the notice said, adding there were separate forms for digital news publishers and OTT platforms.

Union Minister for Information and Broadcasting Prakash Javadekar interacted with publishers of online curated content and with publishers of news on digital media.

The News Broadcasters Association (NBA) expressed concern on the recent notifications. "While NBA appreciates the need for regulations, the traditional news media need not be subjected to and/or covered under the scope of the IT Rules 2021, since it is already sufficiently regulated by various statutes, laws, guidelines and codes, regulations, and judgements," said a statement from the NBA.

Chhattisgarh district with population of over 10 lakh achieves 99% recovery

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

A strict containment strategy, coupled with effective Covid-19 management, has worked for Chhattisgarh's Bemetara, a predominantly rural district, to achieve 99% recovery.

The district with over 10 lakh population and 699 villages had a cumulative caseload of 19,486, out of which 18,398 have recovered. It had reported 610 cases over the past 10 days, but with 1,256 recoveries.

Bemetara executed comprehensive testing followed by standardised clinical management for those who tested positive. The district has further covered over 55% of the population under its vaccination programme. Bemetara has set up 150 health centres. "To prevent the spread of infection and promptly identify the patients, the entire health system was galvanized, with strict monitoring put in place," says Anant Tayal, District Collector.

Tayal said district-level staff of the health department, ground-level health workers and Mitanin (community health workers), officials of other departments, had their roles identified. Camps were set up in villages for vaccination. At every block level, there is a dedicated Covid hospital with oxygen beds, concentrators and medical equipment.

People from rural belts didn't have to go to faraway district headquarters or cities. "Every primary community health centre served as public health responders. Various government buildings have been converted into fully-equipped Covid care centres", Tayal said.

A dedicated 24x7 portal and app responded to queries of the people. "In the district over 1.90 lakh tests have been done," said Dr Subhash Mishra, health department spokesperson.

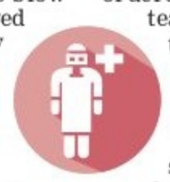
Probe in MP's Satna after reports of resale of single-use PPE kits

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

THE Satna district administration in Madhya Pradesh has ordered a probe into reports of single-use PPE kits resold by a biowaste disposal plant.

Viral video clips of Indo Water Management and Pollution Control Corporation's biowaste disposal plant showed stockpiles of already used single-use PPE kits being readied for possible resale after being washed in containers of hot water.



Biomedical waste from seven districts of Madhya Pradesh, including Satna, is brought for scientific disposal at the the private plant located in Barkheda on Amarpatan Road. Video clips on Wednesday showed stockpiles of already used and water-washed single-use PPE kits kept inside the biowaste disposal plant.

The clips also showed workers at the plant washing the already used PPE kits with water. In the video clips, the voice of a person (who possibly shot the video) can be heard saying that these PPE kits have been piled up for resale.

SDM of Satna, Rajesh Shahi, said that an inquiry has been ordered into the matter. A team of the State Pollution Control Board went to the biowaste plant and enquired into the matter on Wednesday. "The team is likely to submit its report in a day or two, based on which further action will be initiated," Shahi said.

The SDM said that since there was no evidence of who is selling and who is buying the already used single-use PPE kits meant for disposal, officials and the administration will take action or act act only after the report is submitted by the fact-finding team.

National restrictions to stay in force until June 30: MHA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Centre on Thursday extended the current nationwide Covid-19 restrictions till June 30, stating that the number of active cases in the country is still quite high, despite a declining trend in new cases.

The Union Ministry of Home Affairs reiterated that the states should implement containment measures in districts where positivity rate is more than 10 per cent or bed occupancy is over 60 per cent.

In an order, Union Home Secretary Ajay Bhalla said strict implementation of containment and other measures has led to a decline in the number of new cases across the country, barring some areas in the southern and north-eastern regions. "I would like to highlight that in spite of the declining trend, the number of active cases is still very high. It is important that containment measures continue."

One-year extension for heads of IB and R&AW

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE government on Thursday extended the tenure of heads of the two intelligence agencies — Intelligence Bureau (IB) and Research and Analysis Wing (R&AW). It also approved a change of guard in Jammu and Kashmir's top bureaucratic post of chief secretary.

The tenure of IPS Samant Kumar Goel, Secretary, R&AW, was extended by one year. IPS Aravinda Kumar, Director, IB, also got an extension of one year. BVR Subramanyam, chief secretary of J&K, was brought to Delhi as OSD in Commerce Ministry. The extensions were cleared by the Appointments Committee of Cabinet.

Before his appointment as R&AW chief, Goel was heading operations for the agency and played a key role in planning the February 2019 Balakot airstrike and the 2016 surgical strikes. His extension ends speculation whether a six-month criterion used in the Central Bureau of Investigation director's recent appointment would apply here as well.

Sources said, in the CBI chief's appointment, CJI NV Ramana cited past judgments of the Supreme Court and argued that no officer having less than six months of service left should be considered.

Subrahmanyam, a 1987 batch IAS officer, has been appointed Officer on Special Duty in the Commerce Ministry. He will take over as Commerce Secretary from June 30. A Chhattisgarh-cadre officer, he had been hand-picked for the J&K role. "ACC has also approved his appointment as secretary, department of commerce, upon superannuation of Anup Wadhwan IAS secretary department of commerce on 30.06 2021," the order said.

Mehta replaces Subramanyam as J&K chief secy

AK Mehta was on Thursday appointed chief secretary of Jammu and Kashmir in place of BVR Subramanyam. Mehta, who is at present the financial commissioner, has served in the UT for a long time.

CM says Centre's wastage figure erroneous

After the Centre released data of vaccine wastage in states, where Jharkhand was on top with 37.3 per cent, the state government said these figures are erroneous and that the actual figure is around 4.65 per cent. Contesting the Centre's claim that vaccine wastage is highest in Jharkhand, CM Hemant Soren said this is wrong. He added that vaccination data from the state could not be updated properly on the Co-Win platform due to technical problems. "As many as 48.63 lakh vaccine doses were supplied, out of which 42.07 lakh doses have been used by the districts so far. Looking at the total vaccine coverage in the state, the percentage of wastage is around 4.63," tweeted the chief minister.

Redouble efforts to trace Covid origin, Biden tells intel agencies

Seeks report in 90 days; move signals an escalation in row over how the virus first emerged

WASHINGTON

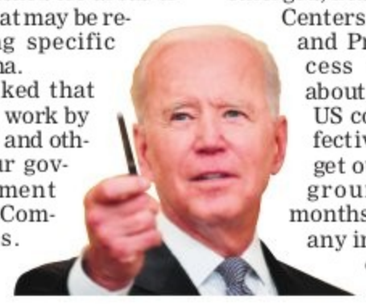
PRESIDENT Joe Biden has ordered the US intelligence agencies to "redouble" their efforts in investigating the emergence of the deadly Covid-19 pandemic and report back to him in 90 days, amid growing controversy about the virus' origin from a bio laboratory in China.

Covid-19 was first detected in the central Chinese city of Wuhan in late 2019. More than 168 million Covid cases have since been confirmed worldwide and at least 3.5 million deaths reported.

The announcement comes after a US intelligence report found several researchers at China's Wuhan Institute of Virology fell ill in November 2019 and had to be hospitalised — a new detail that fuelled fresh public pressure on Biden to order a detailed probe into the origin of the deadly virus. "I have now asked the Intelligence Community to redouble their efforts to collect and analyse information that could bring us closer to a definitive conclusion, and to report back to me in 90 days," Biden said in a statement on Wednesday.

As part of that report, the president said he has asked for areas of further inquiry that may be required, including specific questions for China.

"I have also asked that this effort include work by our National Labs and other agencies of our government to augment the Intelligence Community's efforts. And I have asked the Intelligence Community to keep Congress fully apprised of its work," he said.



Biden said the United States will also keep working with like-minded partners around the world to press China to participate in a full, transparent, evidence-based international investigation and provide access to all relevant data and evidence.

Back in early 2020, when Covid-19 emerged, Biden had called for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention to get access to China to learn about the virus so that the US could fight it more effectively. "The failure to get our inspectors on the ground in those early months will always hamper any investigation into the origin of Covid-19," he said. AP

Israeli strikes in Gaza may be war crimes: UN rights chief

GENEVA

The UN rights chief said on Thursday that Israeli forces may have committed war crimes in the 11-day war with the militant group Hamas that rules the Gaza Strip. Michelle Bachelet also called on Israel to allow an independent probe of military actions in the latest spasm of deadly violence.

The remarks came as the UN's top human rights body opened a one-day special session to discuss the "the grave human rights situation" in Gaza, the West Bank and east Jerusalem. Bachelet said Hamas' indiscriminate rocket fire during the conflict was also a clear violation of the rules of war.

The UN high commissioner for human rights detailed to the Human Rights Council the "most significant escalation of hostilities since 2014" that left devastation and death in the Gaza Strip before a cease-fire last week. The 11-day war killed at least 248 in Gaza, including 66 children and 39 women. In Israel, 12 people also died, including two children.

"Air strikes in such densely populated areas resulted in a high level of civilian fatalities and injuries, as well as the widespread destruction of civilian infrastructure," Bachelet said. "Such attacks may constitute war crimes," she added, if deemed to be indiscriminate and disproportionate in their impact on civilians.

Bachelet urged Israel to ensure accountability, as required under international law in such cases, including through "impartial, independent investigations" of actions in the escalation. AP

Fight to douse Lanka ship fire may take days, says navy chief

COLOMBO

AN international firefighting effort to put out a huge blaze on a container ship off Sri Lanka's coast will likely take days, the country's navy chief said on Thursday, amid mounting fears of a major oil leak.

Nine Sri Lankan ships and three Indian vessels have been working with international salvage experts to douse the eight-day old inferno on the Singapore-registered X-Press Pearl. The vessel was carrying nearly 1,500 containers, including 25 tonnes of nitric acid, when a fire broke out as it waited to enter Colombo port. It is believed that the fire was sparked by a leak of nitric acid on the 186-metre-long ship. Monsoon winds fanned the flames.

But easing winds in the Indian Ocean will make firefighting efforts easier, Sri Lanka navy chief Vice Admiral Nishantha Ulugetenne said, describing the sea and wind conditions as "favourable".

"I hope in another few days we can extinguish this fire completely," he told AFP.

Sri Lanka's Marine Environment Protection Authority (MEPA) has said it fears the vessel could break up and leak oil onto coastal beaches.

"The hull may not be stable for us to tow the ship away from our waters," said MEPA chairman Dharshani Lahandapura. The vessel, now anchored, is carrying 278 tonnes of bunker oil and 50 tonnes of marine gasoil, she said. AFP

Compensation on top of GST Council agenda

First GST Council meet in over six months to also consider tax cuts for Covid essentials, waiver of late filing fees

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

A special borrowing window for states to make the shortfall in GST compensation, a reduction of GST on Covid essentials, and a waiver of penalties imposed for filing GST returns late are some points on the agenda for the GST Council's first meeting in over six months to be held on Friday.

According to sources, on top of the meeting's agenda is the compensation issue, with the states now putting pressure on the Centre to make up for the shortfall in GST compensation due to the states. Finance ministry sources suggest that the Centre may opt to use a special borrowing window for states again, as it had done for the previous fiscal. The shortfall is estimated at ₹1.65 lakh crore.

"Despite good collections, this year too there will be a shortfall in revenue. The likely option is the special window, which worked well last year. This is subject to discussion and approval. We hope this time, the issue will be sorted out amicably," an official said.

Last year, GST compensation to states had become a topic of contention between the Centre and the states, with many rounds of deliberations being required before the states agreed to the Centre's plan.

The GST Council is also likely to discuss a reduction in the tax rate on Covid medicines, vaccines, and medical equipment on Friday.

Ahead of the meeting, the finance ministers of eight states ruled by non-BJP parties—Rajasthan, Punjab, Chhattisgarh, Tamil Nadu, Maharashtra, Jharkhand, Kerala, and West Bengal—have devised a joint strategy to press for a zero tax rate on Covid essentials.

However, the Fitment Committee on GST rates, comprising tax officers of the Centre and the states, has also given its report to the Council listing out the pros and cons of a waiver and the zero-rating of such Covid essentials. The report also lists some items where there is scope to increase taxes in order to compensate for the revenue foregone.

Sources say the Council is likely to announce an amnesty on pending returns, after discussions. Currently, a penalty is imposed for the non-furnishing of returns. In case of zero tax, a late fee of ₹20/day is charged, while others have to ₹50/day per return.

Council may resort to FY21's solution

- Finance ministry sources suggest that the Centre may opt to use a special borrowing window for states again, as it had done for the previous fiscal
- GST compensation shortfall is estimated at `1.65 lakh crore.
- Last year, compensation had led to issues between the Centre and states, with many rounds of talks needed for resolution

₹2,000 notes worth ₹1.82L cr flushed out of the system

SESA SEN @ New Delhi

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) appears to be taking baby steps to flush out the high-value ₹2,000 denomination notes from the monetary system. Over the last four years, ₹1.82 lakh crore worth pink notes, which were introduced in 2016 soon after the government's decision to demonetise old ₹500 and ₹1,000 notes, have gone out of circulation, showed the central bank's latest annual report released Thursday.

In 2017-18, the value of ₹2,000 notes were at a peak of ₹6.72 lakh crore, levels which have now dropped to ₹4.90 lakh crore, translating into a degrowth of 27 per cent. In terms of volume, a record 9,122 lakh pieces of such notes were taken out of circulation. As of March 2021, notes of the highest denomination accounted for 17.3 per cent of overall notes in circulation, down from 37.3 per cent in FY18 and 22.6 per cent in FY20.

The government had decided to introduce ₹2,000 notes in order to ease the shortage of money supply following demonetisation. But the RBI seems to have stopped printing ₹2,000 notes over the past two years. One reason could be that the RBI is intentionally withdrawing the denomination since black money is often hoarded in high-value notes. Secondly, with high-value transactions being carried out via digital modes and the common man avoiding ₹2,000 notes because they aren't easy to break into smaller denominations. "Periodically, there are rumours of such notes being demonetised which is also why people are reluctant to hold on to such notes. Going by the trend, these notes will disappear over a period of time," said Madan Sabnavis, chief economist, CARE Ratings.

Amidst rising inflation, it also makes sense for the RBI to go for more ₹200 rupee notes instead of ₹100, thus saving on printing costs. And that could be a reason why the ₹100 note constituted 15.3 per cent of the volume of total banknotes in circulation in FY21, as against 17.2 per cent a year ago.

To make up for the precautionary 'dash-for-cash' due to the pandemic, however, the RBI has ramped up printing of ₹500 notes throughout the fiscal. The volume of ₹500 notes among total banknotes in circulation rose to 31.1 per cent as of March 2021 compared to 25.4 per cent a year ago. The ₹500 denomination constituted the highest share at 31.1 per cent followed by ₹10 banknotes.

Nifty closes at record high, may gain more in near future

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

BENCHMARK stock market index Nifty on Thursday closed at a record high 15,337.25, up 0.24 per cent from the previous day's closing level. The 50-stock index is now just 94 points away from its all-time intraday high. The S&P BSE Sensex also settled 0.19 per cent higher during the day at 51,115.22.

This is the fifth consecutive session where the market indices have closed in green, with recovery optimism remaining high among investors. Active Covid-19 cases in India continue to decline from their peak and speculation that a stimulus package may be announced for sectors affected the worst by the second-wave, have helped investor sentiment.

"Markets are now eyeing announcements on unlocking by the states which is fueling the recovery. Besides, stability in the global markets after the Fed assurance is also helping the index to sustain at higher levels," said Ajit Mishra, VP - Research, Religare Broking.

Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services added that the equity market is valued based on its future earnings growth proposition, which is solid for India today. High liquidity does help the market and RBI has reaffirmed its supportive stance till the economy recovers, Nair pointed out.

BPCL's big dividend not the norm, warn experts

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

STATE-RUN oil marketing company Bharat Petroleum's (BPCL) higher-than-expected dividend payout should not lure investors into accumulating PSU stocks in anticipation of receiving similar cuts from their profits.

BCPL on Wednesday had announced a dividend of ₹58, which was a 12 per cent yield on its then market price of ₹478. BPCL offered this cut on back of solid results for Q4FY21 in which it reported a profit after tax of ₹11,940 crore as compared to a loss of ₹1,847 crore in Q4FY20. The bottomline included a one-off component too since the company has sold its 61.5 per cent stake in Numaligarh Refinery for ₹9,876 crore.

"The dividend of ₹58 per share announced by the BPCL must not be taken as a benchmark and investors may not expect such dividends from other PSUs because this dividend of ₹58 per share is inclusive of one-time special dividend of ₹35 per share that would lead to an effective dividend of ₹23 per share. This ₹58 per share is in addition to the ₹21 already disbursed as interim dividend," said Vishal Blabhadruni, Banking Analyst at CapitalVia Global Research. He added, "(Since) this is a special one time dividend, investors would be better off not expecting such dividends from other PSUs... this was a special case, the Government of India being the biggest beneficiary."

"We expect this dividend yield of 12.1 per cent to fall significantly in coming quarters. We suggest retail investors not to buy BPCL on expectation of getting this dividend of ₹58 as after the expiry date of dividend the current market price of the share will fall by the almost same amount," said Yash Gupta Equity Research Associate, Angel Broking.

The share price of BPCL surged to a fresh 52-week high of ₹488 apiece on the BSE on Thursday, rising 3.5 per cent intraday. However, it closed the day 0.49 per cent lower at ₹469.90. Shares of two state-run oil marketing companies-HPCL and IOCL-also recorded a fall of 1.14 per cent and 1.47 per cent on Thursday.

ICICI Securities in a note said that the second wave of Covid-19 and the subsequent restrictions would affect fuel demand in the current quarter, impacting the profitability of BPCL and other oil companies. "Improvement in gross refining margins (GRM) and further recovery in fuel demand will be important for BPCL's profitability in the near term. The progress on divestment and response by potential bidders will be the key monitorable for the stock price performance," the brokerage pointed out.

'Pre-Covid level housing demand only after FY23'

New Delhi: Housing sales in volume terms are expected to rise 5-10 per cent this financial year across India's six biggest cities but demand will reach pre-Covid levels only after two years, rating agency Crisil said in a report. The demand will contract in Mumbai Metropolitan Region (MMR) and Pune, Crisil pointed out. "Improved affordability and continuing work-from-home will increase demand for residences by an average 5-10 per cent (in terms of area) on-year in India's top six cities this fiscal," it said, "However, absolute demand will catch up with pre-pandemic levels only after fiscal 2023".

SUN PHARMA NET PROFIT DOUBLES IN Q4

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

PHARMACEUTICALS major Sun Pharmaceutical Industries on Thursday reported a doubling in its net profit for the quarter ended March 31, 2021. The company's consolidated net profit rose to ₹894.15 crore during the quarter primarily due to a robust performance in the Indian market. Sun Pharma had recorded a net profit of ₹399.84 crore in the corresponding period of last year.

According to the company's exchange filings, its consolidated total revenue for the quarter from operations stood at ₹8,522.98 crore against ₹8,184.94 crore in the corresponding period of last year. For the full financial year 2020-21, Sun recorded a net profit of ₹2,903.82 crore compared to ₹3,764.93 crore in the previous year.

Sun's total revenue from operations stood at ₹33,498.14 crore for FY21 compared to ₹32,837.50 crore in FY20.

"FY21 was a year marked by a highly volatile business environment due to the global Covid-19 pandemic and lockdowns in various countries. Despite these challenges... we have been able to maintain business continuity and record positive overall growth," Sun's MD Dilip Shanghvi said.

While Sun's India business continued to outperform average industry growth, global specialty sales have also improved. In specific, drug Ilumya has seen global sales rise 51 per cent to ₹143 million. As for debt, a statement said that "the company has repaid debt of about $580 million in FY21".

Meanwhile, sales of branded formulations in India during the March quarter stood at ₹2,670.9 crore, up 12.9 per cent year-on-year. The India business accounted for 31.7 per cent of total sales.

Experienced Mary in final of Asian meet

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

THE right uppercut to the chin that opened her opponent's defence in the second round perhaps is the moment Mary Kom's team would cherish the most. The first round was a warm-up — steady and a tad slow — as Mary measured her taller and younger Mongolian fighter Lutsaikhan Altantsetseg during the semifinals of the Asian Championships in Dubai on Thursday. This championships was a stepping stone for the Olympics, a place where she could test her training and new technique. Uppercut to the chin is one of them.

Results

51 kg: Mary Kom beat Lutsaikhan Altantsetseg 4-1; 54kg: Sakshi beat Dina Zholaman 3-2; 60kg: Simranjit Kaur lost to Rimma Volossenko 0-5; 48 kg: Monika lost to Alua Balkibekova 0-5; 57 kg: Jaismine lost to Vladislava Kukhta 0-5.

The feet were listening to Mary's command so was her body. The punches were crisp and there was conservation of energy. The third round saw some fierce exchange towards the end, but the multiple world champion and Olympic medallist Mary had no intention to back down as she won 4-1. She will meet Kazakhstan's two-time world champion Nazym Kyzaibay in the final. Mary knew her strengths and weaknesses too. Engaging in long gruelling punch was not what she was trying. So she kept moving in, throwing her punches, and moving out. She added uppercut to her arsenal and was trying it out in Dubai.

"My coach (Chhote Lal Yadav) and I were working out on some new strategy and this is one of them," she told this daily from Dubai. "The uppercut to the chin is not usually common in women's boxing and we thought to try it out. There is some work to do but we are moving towards the right direction."

Mary's coach, sitting miles away in Pune, watched her fight intently. He said they had been working on a few things for the Olympics. "We want to chisel out rough edges before the Olympics," said Chhote Lal.

Pay hike or contract?

Issue is whether state cricket associations can manage it on their own

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

ON the day Sourav Ganguly took charge as the BCCI president, expectations were big. Hope was in the air. That was the sentiment expressed by many current and former cricketers. Infact, there was a collective sigh of relief when the former India captain spoke about much-needed reforms in an interview to PTI after taking over.

"We will bring in a contract system for first-class cricketers. We (office-bearers) will ask the new finance (sub) committee to prepare a contract system. It will take about two weeks to assess everything and move forward. There is a lot of work going on."

SEEKING SUPPORT

Nineteen months on, there is complete silence. Leave alone contracts or pay-hike, the BCCI is yet to pay the gross revenue that it owes to players since 2018. On May 29, the BCCI has called for a special general meeting, but interestingly the pay compensation for domestic players is not part of the agenda. There are indications from few of the state units that they will push the

SCA president Jaydev Shah

BCCI to release funds to the players but the house is divided when it comes to issuing contracts to domestic players.

The first question is who will issue them? The BCCI or the state units? One of the plans floated was for the state units to hand these contracts to around 20 players in various categories. But there are pros and cons for each. While state units get enough funds from the BCCI to pay the players on their own, not everyone is impressed with the idea as a separate GST has to be taken care of. Instead, they want the BCCI to pay directly or just increase the pay.

"If you leave it to states, there will be too many complexities," said Jaydev Shah, the president of the Saurashtra Cricket Association. "In the current system, the payment goes to the players directly. I agree players are suffering, but what they need now is a revision in the pay structure. The contract system is not appropriate for state units. If I give one year contract and he doesn't play I still have to pay him. The best thing is to increase the match fees which will be uniform to everyone. If a player features in all the matches he gets around ₹15 lakhs a season. Increase it to 25 lakhs," he said.

The contract system might sound new. Maharashtra Cricket Association (MCA) introduced one way back in 2005/06 itself when Ajay Shirke was heading the state unit. Although it benefited players, it did have some complications. Few of the players who wanted to play for their employers in corporate tournaments, couldn't get clearance from the MCA. In 2021, there are still complications involved. Under the current system, players are free to play anywhere unless it coincides with BCCI meets. So whether the state units will agree to pay players for a year for just six months of their service is a big question.

Praneeth seeks training gains before Olympics

ASHIM SUNAM @Bengaluru

AFTER India shuttler B Sai Praneeth learned about the cancellation of the Malaysia and Singapore Open, he decided to take a small break around mid-May. The Tokyo-bound athlete, who trains at the Gopichand Academy in Hyderabad, decided to spend some time with his family. It was understandable with no future competitions looming around due to the pandemic. More importantly, it gave him time to recharge his batteries and prepare for the final stretch of his Olympic preparations.

With Tokyo Games less than two months away, the 28-year-old resumed his training at the academy last week and is keen to make each day count with an eye on giving his best at the quadrennial event. Injury has been a concern for him in the past and he is aware he needs to stay fit ahead of the Games. Besides, the pandemic can also make preparation tricky.

"In this (current) situation, practice is very important. These two months are really very crucial. One has to be very careful as the pandemic is also there. You have to remain safe from all this. If you look at training, you have to be fit and also free from injuries," said Praneeth.

Set to make his Olympic debut in Tokyo, his preparations are far from ideal. With competitions getting cancelled left and right ever since the outbreak last year, the shuttler has only featured in eight competitions in 2020 and 2021 so far. Compare that to 18 BWF tournaments Praneeth participated in in 2019.

As a result, training sessions become even more significant where he can sharpen his weapons before Tokyo under the watchful eyes of Pullela Gopichand and Agus Dwi Santoso. "Definitely it is a disadvantage. Before the Olympics, there are no competitions to participate in. But we have to remain positive. I know we are missing those kinds of important match practice in competitions, but I believe all of us will be ready and fit for the Olympics."

Only Poland trip for Oly-bound wrestlers

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

IN a big diversion from previous plan, India's Olympic bound wrestlers sans Bajrang Punia (65kg) and Sonam Malik (62kg) are now expected to compete in Poland Ranking Series in Warsaw and camp there for a week before returning to the country. Earlier, the grapplers were scheduled to fly to Hungary for a short camp after the event and compete in the Yasar Dogu meet in Istanbul. A week long camp in Turkey was also planned.

"There is a tweak in plan because of travel restrictions. We will submit visa applications on May 30 for Poland trip. Hopefully, we will get visas in few days. As of now, the plan to visit Hungary and Turkey for a camp and tournament has been dropped," said a source from the Wrestling Federation of India (WFI).

The Poland Ranking Series is scheduled from June 8 to 13 while the Turkey event is slated from June 25 to 27. "Yasar Dogu is unlikely this year," added the source. However, the world body, United World Wrestling, has not yet confirmed the cancellation of the event.

Bajrang to head for Russia

Bajrang is planning a training-cum-competition tour to Russia ahead of the Games. "I will not compete in Poland. Instead, I am looking for a training-cum-competition stint in Russia. If possible, I will head for the Games from there," said Bajrang.

FRENCH OPEN

Big Three in same half

PARIS: Rafael Nadal, Novak Djokovic and Roger Federer were on Thursday all drawn in same half of French Open. Nadal and Djokovic could meet in the semifinals this year. Djokovic could possibly face Federer in the quarterfinals.

Nagal fails to make cut

PARIS: Sumit Nagal could not make a hat-trick of Grand Slam main draw appearances following a 3-6, 3-6 loss against Alejandro Tabilo in the second round of the French Open Qualifying event here.

Coach Jaspal to join shooters in Croatia

ANMOL GURUNG @Chennai

AFTER initially opting to skip the Croatia tour, pistol coach Jaspal Rana is set to join the Olympic-bound shooting team in Croatia next month. Owing to personal reasons, the trio of Rana, chief pistol coach Samaresh Jung and high performance manager Ronak Pandit had initially decided against going to Europe. As reported by this daily, Ronak and Jung have is set to join the team soon.

The trio's initial omission from Croatia trip had raised eye brows. Rajiv Bhatia, NRAI secretary, also confirmed the development and said the federation is working on Rana's travel plans.

Rana clarified on Wednesday that the National Rifle Association of India (NRAI), the governing body of the sport in the country, never ignored them. "I'm going to Croatia, but the dates are yet to be finalised. I have started the paperwork and I'll apply for the visa on Monday. It was not like the federation did not want us. We wanted the camp to be held here (New Delhi) and we had opted out," Rana said.

Confirming that he had gotten in touch with the federation, Rana said that he's ready to focus on the bigger picture. "I'm happy that the president is the person who thinks out of the box and he's somebody who wants to do good for the sport. So that's a big plus. The bigger interest should be the country," he said.

General Motors is teaming up with Lockheed Martin to produce the ultimate off-road, self-driving, electric vehicles — for the moon. The project is still in the early stages and has yet to score any NASA money. But the goal is to design light yet rugged vehicles that will travel farther and faster than the lunar rovers that carried NASA's Apollo astronauts in the early 1970s, the companies said.

Heat waves on the rise in India, AP worst-hit

India is one of the most severely affected countries in the world; men account for nearly all heat-related deaths

DATA

NEW DELHI: Heat wave events have been gradually increasing in the country in the last three decades with 660 such events causing 12,273 fatalities, said a research paper.

"The heat wave events have shown a rising trend, whereas no significant rising or declining trend was observed in the heat wave. In fatality density, top five states are Chandigarh, Delhi, Andhra Pradesh, Bihar and Odisha. Regionally, annual fatality rate has varied from 0.66 (peninsula region) to 0.02 (hilly region)," said the paper published in Current Science.

The research used Disastrous Weather Events reports' statistics for the period 1978-2014. The analysis shows that only five states -- Andhra Pradesh (42%), Rajasthan (17%), Odisha (10%), Uttar Pradesh (7%) and Bihar (7%) have accounted more than 80% of the heat wave fatalities, although nine states namely, Arunachal Pradesh, Nagaland, Manipur, Meghalaya, Tripura, Sikkim, Mizoram, Uttarakhand and Goa have never reported heat wave events.

Heat waves with highest tolls

Spells	States	Fatalities
15 May-22 June 2003	AP	1,300
9-15 May 2002	AP	600
1-31 May 1998	AP	355
20-30 May 1998	Odisha	340
6-16 May 1988	Rajasthan	337

Each event has resulted in about 104 fatalities in Andhra Pradesh state. Majority of events have been witnessed in April, May and June months. The maximum count of events has been observed in Maharashtra state followed by Rajasthan, Odisha, West Bengal, Punjab and Andhra Pradesh.

Region wise analysis shows that the maximum count of heat wave events has been detected in northwest (30%) followed by central northeast (28%) and central west (19%) regions, whereas least over hilly (1%).

Conversely, peninsula has experienced roughly 42% of the total fatalities followed by central northeast (27%) and northwest (21%) regions, while hilly region accounts almost negligible fatalities followed by northeast (4%) and central west (6%). Remarkably, the peninsula observed the highest fatalities per event (77 fatalities).

Andhra Pradesh has the maximum fatality rate per million population per year followed by Rajasthan, Odisha, Chandigarh and Punjab state.

Fatality rate varies from 0.66 (peninsula) to 0.02 (hilly region) per year. Richa Sharma

Cause of vaccine blood clots found, can be fixed, says study

MEDICINE

BERLIN: Scientists in Germany say they have decoded the cause of the rare blood clots linked to the AstraZeneca and Johnson & Johnson vaccines.

Rolf Marschalek, a professor at Goethe university, has been conducting studies on the clots since March and his research shows that the problem lies with the type of vaccine — both the shots use an adenovirus to deliver the genetic instructions for the spike protein of the coronavirus. This delivery mechanism takes the spike protein's gene sequences into the cell nucleus, and not the cell's cytosol fluid, where the virus ordinally makes proteins, the Financial Times reported, citing a pre-print paper by Marschalek et al.

The mRNA vaccines used in the West, such as the ones developed by Pfizer and Moderna, deliver the genetic instrictions to the cell fluid and never to the nucleus.

"Once inside the cell nucleus, certain parts of the spike protein DNA are spliced, or split apart, creating mutant versions, which are unable to bind to the cell membrane where important immunisation takes place," the Times wrote. The mutant proteins are then secreted by cells into the human body, causing blood clots in one among 1 lakh people, the scientists believe.

Marschalek said that the vaccines can be tweaked to modify the gene sequences, so that the spike protein does not split.

FACT OF THE MATTER

Sanofi-GSK shot in Phase 3

MEDICINE

French pharmaceutical giant Sanofi and Britain's GSK announced Thursday the start of final tests of their belated Covid vaccine as they race to add their jab to the world's arsenal against the pandemic. The companies reported positive results from interim human trials earlier this month after a disappointing outcome from initial studies last year left France without its own vaccine, denting national pride. Sanofi and GlaxoSmithKline on Thursday started enrolment for Phase 3 of a clinical study that will include more than 35,000 adult volunteers at sites in the United States, Asia, Africa and Latin America, the firms said. The Phase 3 trial will initially investigate the vaccine's efficacy against the original coronavirus and then look at its response to the S Africa variant.

Google health algorithms

TECH

Google has collaborated with the US hospital chain HCA Healthcare to develop healthcare algorithms using patient records, a media report said. According to the Wall Street Journal, Google will have access to patient records from HCA, which operates 181 hospitals and more than 2,000 healthcare sites in 21 states. "HCA would consolidate and store with Google data from digital health records and internet-connected medical devices under the multi-year agreement," the report said. Google will store anonymised data from patient records and medical devices. That data will be used for programmes that can inform decisions made by healthcare providers, the report said. Microsoft and Amazon are also working in the health data analysis field.

LAKSHADWEEP USHERING INTO A NEW ERA OF PROGRESS, PROSPERITY & OPPORTUNITIES

Lakshadweep, which is situated in the Arabian Sea off the south western coast of India, is bestowed with scenic beauty and holds great importance from the point of view of tourism and strategic location. It has 36 islands out of which 10 islands are inhabited. But even after completion of 73 years of independence, the level of development here has not been commensurate with its potential. The steps taken by the Administration in the recent past has ushered in new direction and momentum to the development in the island. The administration has laid the foundation for the future of Lakshadweep in a planned way.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY & TELECOMMUNICATIONS

In today's modern era, it is very important to have net connectivity for the overall development of any region. But even after 73 years of independence, net connectivity is a very big problem in Lakshadweep. Keeping in mind the overall development of Lakshadweep, the Hon'ble Prime Minister has awarded a submarine optical fiber cable project of Rs 1072 crore, which will be completed by 2023-24. With this, online education, e-medicine and various types of technical facilities will be available here, so that the local people of this place will get new opportunities in the field of education, employment and business.

TOURISM

Maldives with the same natural beauty and similar geographical location as Lakshadweep has emerged as great tourism location in the world map. But even today there are negligible facilities for tourism in Lakshadweep. Three eco friendly tourism water villa projects are being developed for tourism development by the Lakshadweep Administration in collaboration with NITI Aayog on the lines of Maldives in Minicoy, Kadmat and Suheli and the progress on the same shall start from the month of August, 2021. With this, tourism will get a new dimension and tourists will get facilities for accommodation and entertainment and local people will get new opportunities for employment and business. Keeping tourism in mind, liquor permits have been given at the selected tourist establishment, only for the tourists.

Better connectivity has an important role in promotion of tourism and regional development. Until now, only low-capacity aircraft (such as ATR aircraft) were able to land at Agatti airport, due to which national and international tourists could come only in small numbers. The administration has started the process of expansion of Agatti airstrip in collaboration with the Government of India. This will enable high capacity aircrafts such as Boeing and Airbus to land here, which shall facilitate connectivity and promote tourism.

Keeping in view the disaster management, medical facilities and strategic security, the helipad of Kavaratti is being equipped with night landing facilities so that the Coast Guard and Navy choppers will also be able to park and operate from this helipad.

The UT Administration has taken steps to introduce freight from Mangalore port in addition to Kochi to ensure the availability of essential commodities on the islands located at the northern end as these island are geographically closer to Mangalore Port. The use of this sea route will reduce the navigable distance by about 75 nautical miles and save time of 9 hours, which will also result in a reduction in the cost of freight by about Rs 200 per tonne.

AGRICULTURE AND FISHERIES

There are around 10.5 lakh coconut trees on the island and about 10.5 crores coconuts are produced annually in this Union Territory. However, till date the value addition and marketing of coconut and its produce has not been developed on a commercial level due to which farmers are not getting fair value of their production. The Administration has taken initiative with Coconut Development Board, Coir Board Kochi and NCDC to promote value addition and processing of coconut so that the income of the farmers will be doubled.

Hon'ble Administrator, Shri Praful Patel Kalpeni visit on 17.01.2021

Tuna fish is found in abundance in the sea here. Approximately 25,000 metric tons of fish are caught every year, of which 92% is Tuna Fish. But due to lack of proper arrangement of ice and fish processing here, fishermen do not get fair price for their catch. Taking steps in this direction the Administration has set up an ice plant in Minicoy, Bitra, Agatti (in addition to Kavaratti and Kadmat) and an Ice plant is being set up in Amini. This will help preserve the value and quality of Tuna Fish. MOU has been signed with NCDC for state-of-the-art promotion to increase exports of Tuna Fish. Along with this, new markets are being explored by NCDC, MPEDA and other institutions for fish exports, so that fishermen can get fair value for their products.

For economic empowerment and self-reliance of women in the Union Territory, the process has been started to make Lakshadweep, the nation's largest hub of Seaweed farming through formation of Women Self Help Groups in the Union Territory.

EDUCATION & HEALTH

There is inadequate facilities of higher education for the youth here, for this, the Administration has taken the initiative to set up a nursing college and paramedical college in Kavaratti and a polytechnic college in Minicoy to provide higher education opportunities in Lakshadweep itself. The youth of these islands shall get a chance to make a career in the Mechanical, Electrical and Marine engineering streams at the Polytechnic College. This shall provide a golden opportunity especially for the youth of Minicoy who are aspiring to join the Merchant Navy. These courses will start in the ensuing academic session this year.

In this direction, a process has been initiated in the field of education for establishment of a new modern High School in Kavaratti, the need of which was felt by the local residents over the years.

Hitherto, the health infrastructure here was not developed upto its full potential even after 73 years of independence. Keeping this in mind, sea facing hospitals are being constructed in Agatti, Minicoy, Andrott and Kavaratti. Administration has taken special initiative to deal with COVID epidemic. With the efforts of the administration, 2 oxygen plants are being installed by the Government of India in Agatti and Kavaratti. Along with this, 1 oxygen plant is being set up in Minicoy through CSR. This is an important step towards making the Union Territory of Lakshadweep, which is about 500 KM away from the mainland, self-reliant in the field of health.

OTHERS

Just as petroleum products are sold by PSUs (PSUs such as IOCL) across India, similarly retail outlets will be run by them in Lakshadweep providing employment to the local people.

Electricity for the entire Lakshadweep is generated from diesel generator which has a very adverse effect on the environment here. To save the natural environment and to promote green energy and clean energy here , the Government of India has started the process of privatization for the production of electricity.

Ration was received for the poor under NFSA and for the mid day meal and it used to come to one of the islands and was transported to different islands from there. By requesting FCI, now the entire ration will be transported by FCI to all the islands. By sending all the ration on the same island, the vested interests misused the arrangement and sold the ration in the open market. This practice would now be curbed and there would be a saving in the cost of distribution. The loss caused by the above initiative to the food mafia has prompted them to propagate misinformation campaign.

Efforts are being made to open AMUL outlets on all the ten inhabited islands to make essential items like pure milk, curd, cheese, ghee, butter available to the residents of this Union Territory.

The administration is also taking action to remove illegal encroachments at various places over the years in Lakshadweep, in protest of which a self motivated propaganda is being carried out by vested interest.

Kavaratti (population 12000) has been included in the smart city for the development of world-class urban facilities and infrastructure. Efforts are also being made to include important 4 islands in the same by increasing its scope. Keeping this goal in mind, the Town Country Planning regulation needs to be notified, for which steps are being taken.

Inspection at Break Water, Androth on 17.01.2021

(A) There is misleading propaganda that a person with more than two children cannot be a candidate in the election. It is clarified in this context that when this Panchayat Act is notified, its provisions will only apply to the parents of infants born after the due date of notification.

(B) Keeping in mind the development and upliftment and empowerment of women, the administration has provided 50% reservation to women under the Panchayat Act here. With this, the women here will also be able to plan the development of Lakshadweep and can take over the reins of its future. In the state where women is empowered, the future development of the whole society is bright.

Further, amendments have been made in the Panchayat law here on the lines of the provision of Panchayat law in other states of the country.

Keeping in view the internal security and the future of the youth, a few days ago 300 kg heroin with an international value of 3000 crores and 5 AK 47 rifles and 1000 live rounds were confiscated. Similarly, many cases of illegal smuggling of marijuana and liquor and POCSO have also been reported here. In this small Union Territory, the future of youth here is expected to be clouded by such illegal business. Keeping this in mind, strict and stringent laws are needed so that the youth here are not misguided. People having personal interests in such illegal business are propagating against the imposition of strict laws.

Agatti Hospital Visit on 10.12.2020

As many states of the country have enacted cow protection laws, a law has also been introduced in Lakshadweep on the same lines. Only those who are associated with its illegal business and those who have personal interests are propagating against this legislation.

The administration have started continuous work for the prosperity and bright future of all its citizens, especially fishermen, women and youth of this blessed Union Territory, which is being left behind in the race for development from its brothers and sisters of the other Indian States/UTs. In such a situation, the people whose vested interests are hit by the Administration are propagating misinformation campaign against the administration. All citizens are requested to participate in this journey of development led by the administration.
